Pressure Increases Here for Legislature To Help Small Schools Losing State Aid

Britain Is Against NATO in Aid Field

Paris, May 3 (AP) — British sources said Britain told the United States today it opposes any extension of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) into the foreign aid field for the benefit of the world's undeveloped regions.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had a midday meeting. The British informants said Lloyd told Dulles NATO members should push their aid programs through other institutions. Suggested were the International Monetary Fund, the Colombo Plan for Southeast Asia, or agencies of the United Nations.

WEST GERMANY had just agreed with a French plan for linking German reunification to progress in world disarmament which, in turn, would free large sums of capital for investment.

Lloyd and Dulles met for a long discussion of East-West relations and NATO's place in that picture. They continued their talks through luncheon. Dulles followed through with a meeting with West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano in the afternon.

BY ACCOUNT of the British sources:

Lloyd told Dulles Britain is willing to expand consultative functions of NATO in the political field, but opposes the creation of a new organization to channel aid to underdeveloped nations. He said Britain also opposes using the NATO framework for

No Changes Here As IBM Plans New Typewriter Plant

Expansion plans for IBM electric typewriter production, including a new plant, will not affect Kingston production "for the foreseeable future," H. W. Miller, Jr., who has charge of all electric typewriter production, revealed Wednesday.

In an announcement from IBM world headquarters, Mr. Miller confirmed that IBM plans to manufacture typewriters elsewhere than Kingston. The company, however, expects to go ahead with plans for establishlishing typewriter production at the Kingston plant in June, he said, and "there is no change in our plans for the Kingston production for the foreseeable future."

"IBM's typewriter production has been expanding so rapidly that we now are looking for additional space to carry on this part of the IBM business," Mr. Miller said.

It had been reported that IBM was planning electric typewriter production in more than one community. Reports included plans for a new plant in Kentucky. Of that report, Mr. Miller said, IBM is not prepared to say how soon, or where the additional typewriter production will be located.

Convention Will Probe Data on Fluoridation

A proposal to reevaluate fluoridation is scheduled to come before the annual convention of the American Water Works Association in St. Louis, Mo., next week.

Reevaluation of the subject was prompted, among other reasons, by the fact that the New York City Department of Water Supply and Electricity and the water works of Passaic and Hackensack, N. J. have issued statements of policy pointing out the dangers of fluoridation and its questionable statistical conclusions.

HEADED BY Nelson M. Fuller, sanitary engineer and manager of the Batavia water works, a group of eastern officials will request a new look at the fluoride issue at the St. Louis convention.

Mr. Fuller and his group assert that gross statistical errors and even deception has been used to fool the public into believing that a 60 per cent reduction in tooth decay is possible.

Mr. Fuller said the statement is based upon careful statistical analyses of the three now completed "so-called 'studies' where fluorides were placed in the water of Newburgh, Brantford, Ontario and Grand Rapids, Mich. have been evaluated against so-called 'control' cities for tooth decay reduction. These experiments have now been closed down after a period of nine to 10 years operations," Mr. Fuller's statement said.

THE FULLER GROUP, which claims that their evaluation of the statistics will stand the most critical examination, said the report of a 60 per cent reduction in tooth decay "is not revealed by the facts and that such a conclusion is a gross misadventure in statistics."

The report said data shows that tooth decay is merely delayed by not more than two years and that tooth decay after a two-year delay is exactly the same as before fluoridation.

IT WAS NOTED also that the reports of a 60 per cent reduction in tooth decay were based upon the six to nine-year-old age group. Because there appears to be a delay in the onset of decay, the Fuller group noted that the experimenters averaged the per cent reduction in each of the first four years and came up with "the false claim of a 60 per cent reduction in tooth decay."

The report also noted that the experimenters closed down the "studies" in the ninth and tenth years at a time when the children under study had slightly more than one-half (14) of their permanent teeth.

THE FULLER GROUP also points out 'the disturbing fact that the great prestige of the public health authorities was used to obtain endorsements from such official bodies as the American Dental Association, the American Medical Association and the American Water Works Association only five years after the experiments were undertaken and at a time when not a single tooth had erupted in the mouths of the thousands of children under study."

The New York County Medical Society has been appraised of these facts and its public health committee will review this matter at its meeting on May 10, it was reported.

ALSO NOTED in the request for the reevaluation are "other disturbing facts revealed by fed-

West Shore Cuts Won't Affect City

An order by the New Jersey Public Utility Commission to reduce passenger service on the West Shore line of the New York Central railroad from 21 round trips on weekdays to 11, is not expected to affect service here immediately, it was indicated today.

THE DECISION announced today from Newark, N. J., is expected to result first in the dropping of locals that operate in northern New Jersey. The railroad has an application pending before the New York State Public Service Commission for a reduction of service in this state.

A reduction to eight round trips was sought, and the railroad expressed disappointment after the decision was announced, an Associated Press report from Newark said.

FOUR EASTBOUND and four westbound passenger trains now serve Kingston daily, and no information has been received locally, to date, indicating any cut in this service.

In a statement issued in New York, the Central said, the PUC action "will continue the railroad's high losses in carrying a handful of commuters, who, for the most part, have abandoned us for highways, bridges and tunnels."

THE PUC GRANTED permission, said the AP report, to halt all West Shore passenger service on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays when trains have been running on a limited schedule. This phase of the order also apparently applies, at this time, only to the New Jersey end of the line.

The state agency said the

$87,000 Building Is Due Here for Reserves and Guard

Kingston is due for an $87,000 U. S. Army Reserve building project, it was learned today through announcement from Washington of a $40,000,000 construction program for both the reserve and National Guard in several states.

Sites in and near Kingston are being considered and one is expected to be selected soon after final federal inspection, it was also learned today. The building will be for accomodation and training of a reserve unit of 100 men.

The program was approved by the House appropriations committee in Washington and committee-approved National Guard armory construction includes a $398,000 building for Monticello. The federal government's share of this would be $298,500.

Capt. Wayne Reynolds, of Kingston, the unit advisor for the Poughkeepsie area Army Reserve Training Center said today that an airplane hangar type building in the town of Ulster is being used by the Kingston Army Reserve unit as temporary quarters.

The House committee recommended that Congress give the Army just what it asked for in the way of buildings to carry out an expanded beefing-up of Uncle Sam's standby forces.

In testimony before the committee Col. William R. Shuler, construction division chief of the Army's deputy chief for legistics, declared:

"All of these projects are needed now. They are for units now activated and meeting in someone's back office, in warehouses, in garages and schools."

Training facilities were mandatory, he said, "If we are going to give a realistic training program."

The federal government is to pay the entire cost of the approved buildings. In the east, many are to be built in all New England states, as well as in New York and New Jersey.

National Guard Armory construction projects approved included, one of $17,000 for Newburgh. The federal government's share of this is $12,750.

Bradley Moves to Curb Anastasia Pier Power

New York, May 3 (AP)—William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), has suspended one local and ordered a secret ballot for another in an attempt to curb the power of Brooklyn pier boss Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia.

Bradley, formerly of Kingston, yesterday notified Anastasia, a vice president of the independent union, that he would not recognize the absorption of Local 1816 by Local 1814 until a referendum was held to determine the wishes of the membership.

He also suspended the charter of Local 1827, a catch-all local of plant and general factory workers accused of trying to raid other locals.

Bratdley described the move as a "definite showdown" with the powerful Brooklyn leader, who failed to show up at a Tuesday night meeting of the ILA's New York Council when asked to answer the raiding charges.

The clash led to speculation that Anastasia might attempt to take his locals into the rival AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen.

Local 1816, with some 900 members, was absorbed last week by Anastasia's sprawling 8,000-man Local 1814.

Anastasia said he was simply following Bradley's announced

Benedictine Campaign for Nurse Home, School Fund Will Start in Late Fall

A community-wide campaign to provide a fund in the range of $400,000 toward construction of a school of nursing and a nurses' residence at the Benedictine Hospital will be conducted in the late fall and winter of 1956 through 1957. Announcement of the project was made today by Sister M. Berenice, administrator of Benedictine Hospital.

The erection of a school of nursing and residence has been in the planning stage for several years but was postponed on account of the great urgency for hospital facilities to serve the residents of the community. In 1951 the Benedictine Hospital, through public subscription, raised funds for completion of the wing which since has been erected and now is giving useful service.

Benedictine serves the immediate Kingston area in a major way. It also serves the adjacent area throughout Ulster county and with the completion of the new bridge across the Hudson, the demands upon it will be drastically extended. The growth of population in the district as a result of the Thruway, new industries and other factors, is placing additional demands upon the facilities of Benedictine.

The need for nurses in the area is pronounced and is growing more serious every day. Benedictine school now has 67 enrolled. Present students are housed and instructed in four buildings, three being old converted residences which are obsolete and impractical. Living conditions for the nurses' are exceedingly crowded. It is the aim to provide extended space of a modern nature with facilities for educating at least 100 nurses at a time.

It is proposed to launch the campaign in November, following the completion of the Community Chest appeal. The proj-

UN May Send Chief Back to Palestine

United Nations, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold told the Security Council today he has obtained new unconditional cease-fire agreements from Israel and her four Arab neighbors—Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

He told the coucil in a "progress report" the next step in the uneasy Middle East situation is to re-establish full compliance with other sections of the general armistice agreements of 1949, which ended the Palestine fighting.

THERE ARE indications he may return in June to work for such compliance and put the cease-fire agreements on a more solid basis.

The secretary general thus completed the first part of the assignment given to him by the Security Council April 4. He filed his report to the council president, Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, from Jerusalem, where he engaged in last-minute talks with Israeli officials.

He will go next to Cairo for a brief conversation with Egyptian officials and then fly to Rome. He is expected at the UN this weekend to write his final report, to be given the council next week.

The secretary general's report contained mostly background and a report of his efforts to stop the fighting and border incidents. He made no recommendations. He is expected to include some in his next report.

Hammarskjold recalled that he had reported earlier assurances of Egypt and Israel not to engage in hostilities except in self-defense. He then said he had concluded "with positive result" the negotiations with the parties to the other three armistice

Winter Road Damage Is Placed At $10 Million

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Winter's blustering weather wrought about 10 million dollars in damage to New York state highways this year, the public works department told the Associated Press today.

A spokesman said the seasonal damage was considered the worst in recent years. Highway crews already are hard at work trying to repair the most severely damaged roads, he said.

Particularly hard hit were Routes 13, 89, 96B and 34 in Tompkins county. John W. Johnson, public works superintendent, has put the county at the top of his list for emergency repair work.

The department also classed Route 9 just north of Albany and Routes 33, 5 and 324 near Buffalo as heavily damaged.

Snow and ice accumulations and varying temperature conditions caused the roads to heave and crack and left them pockmarked with "pot holes."

The department said four million dollars has been allocated to a special fund for repair of the winter damages. The plan is to use a million of that sum for emergency repair work by department crews. This consists mostly of patching and of repaving short sections.

Contracts will be let for more extensive repair jobs with the

Session Is Urged for Payment

Tillson Man Asks Protest From All

Pressure increased today for action against a reduction of state aid to small schools in this area with these developments:

1) A local attorney urged that a special session of the legislature be called to pass legislation relieving the small school districts.

2) An Orange county assemblyman asked Governor Harriman to call the legislature back for a small rural schools appropriation and

3) A Tillson man, who wrote the governor he was stopping payments on his state income tax in opposition to the legislation, urged others "to join the protest."

THE PROTESTS arose as the result of an announcement earlier this week that approximately 47 of Ulster county's 62 school districts will lose some or all of their state aid under the new Heald Commission program which takes effect July 1.

Annual meetings of at least six area school districts were recessed Tuesday night without approving budgets, reportedly in protest against the loss of state aid.

IT IS ESTIMATED that loss in state aid to the 47 districts might be considerably in excess of $100,000. Approximately 1,800 children in these districts would be affected.

Sherwood E. Davis, Kingston attorney, said. "The sleight of hand by which 47 school districts in Ulster county have been deprived of over $100,000 in state aid necessitates the governor immediately ealling a special session of the Legislature."

MEANWHILE, Wilson Van Duzer, (R), Orange county assemblyman, in a letter to the governor, suggested five or six million dollars would take care of the situation for this year, according to an Associated Press report.

He also asked for a sliding scale of relief to be provided for subsequent periods until the state education department can come to an agreement as to whether these small schools should be centralized.

UNDER A BILL recently signed by Gov. Harriman small school districts with fewer than eight teachers stand to lose all or part of their state aid.

Howard F. Mansfield, of Tillson, an electronics designer and the father of three children, was notified by the governor in an Associated Press story from Albany yesterday that he must pay his state income tax.

Mr. Mansfield told The Freeman today, "When government starts dictating instead of leading, it is time to act." He urged individual citizens to rebel "against the iron fist which this law has come to be."

TERMING the new formula "a coercive measure of the state department of education to wipe out the small districts," Mr. Davis declared immediate legislation should be passed giving "stop gap" aid to those affected districts.

"The governor promised the voters of the state that not one penny of state aid would be taken away from them," Mr. Davis said. "Here we have a situation where over 1,000 districts in the state will lose hundreds of thousands of dollars in state aid," he said.

Mr. Davis suggested the legislature be convened either this month or early in June to grant

Sales Tax, Revenues Are To Be Discussed Tonight

Frederick E. Ewing, municipal consultant of Auburn, will be the principal speaker at the annual membership business meeting of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock tonight in the court house on Wall street. The public is invited to attend.

Ewing will speak on municipal revenues, including the sales tax. In making this announcement today, George J. Silkworth, president of the Chamber, said that this meeting and subject are in line with the policy of providing the public with information on all important issues regardless of how controversial they may be.

After introductory remarks by President Silkworth, Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, will report briefly on the activities of the various Chamber committees for the past year. This will be followed by the distribution of a complete list of committee appointments for the coming year. Some additional names will be added to the committees after the close of the current membership drive.

The reports will be followed by

Along Capitol Corridors

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—In recent weeks the Republican high command upstate has been looking south to New York city, wondering whether lightning could strike again—and produce another Thomas E. Dewey.

The object of their curiosity is U. S. Attorney Paul W. Williams, who has been cutting a wide swath—and stirring old memories—with a drive to rid the trucking and garment industries of reputed racketeering.

THE GOP REMEMBERS only too well how a young district attorney won a war against the rackets in New York city two decades ago and soared to national prominence.

They have not forgotten that the young Dewey captured the public fancy and climbed to 12 uninterrupted years of power in the state's Executive Mansion.

But now they are on the outside, looking in at the Democ leader who has pushed himself head and shoulders above the rest. No wonder heads are turning to New York city again.

AT THIS STAGE, Williams is little more than a curiosity to the Republican leadership. But his name has been mentioned as a darkhorse Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Williams, at 53, is almost 20 years old than Dewey was when the former governor made his name as a racket-buster.

Both affect mustaches, but the physical resemblance ends there. While Dewey is slight of stature, Williams is a powerfully built six-footer. He has dark, wavy hair, greying at the temples, and is generally conceded to be handsome.

Williams is a native of Rochester. He was graduated from Harvard University (magna cum laude) and studied at Cambridge University in England before returning to Harvard for his law degree. He interruped his law practice in New York city to serve as a naval officer in the South Pacific during World War 2.

IN THE EARLY 1930's he was an assistant U. S. attorney in the office he now heads. Through that post he made Dewey's acquaintance.

Dewey first tapped Williams for state service in 1950. As special counsel to the State Insurance Department, Williams suceeded in disbanding the International Workers Order, which he charged was a Communist front.

In 1952, Dewey put him in charge of the state-ordered investigations of gambling and vice in Saratoga and Columbia counties. Special Prosecutor Williams tangled with assorted underworld figures, including Frank Costello.

Costello was questioned, but never charged, in connection with the Saratoga probe.

BUT WILLIAMS nailed Meyer Lansky, a pal of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, for a hitch in the county jail. And numerous lesser lights were convicted.

Williams stepped out as prosecutor in September, 1954, to accept appointment by Dewey to a State Supreme Court vacancy in New York city. The following November, he failed by a narrow margin to win election to a full, 14-year term in the heavily Democratic district.

But when the U. S. attorney's job opened up last July, Sen. Irving M. Ives advanced Williams for the post and President Eisenhower appointed him.

Williams unveiled his anti-rackets drive in March, billing it as the biggest crackdown of its kind in two decades. Two special grand juries were convened in the probe and there were reports that the FBI had thrown a task force into the driver.

Suddenly Williams' name and face loomed large in the public print.

And that has set Republicans to wondering whether there might be another Jack-the-Giant-Killer in the fold—a giant-killer with voter appeal.

World production of leather footwear in 1952 was estimated at 1,278,707,000 pairs.

Paine Was Pain

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—Thomas Paine, the Revolutionary War era philosopher was born a Pain, but changed his name, says Col. Richard Gimbel, who owns one of the largest collections of Paine's works. Gimbel, retired chairman of the air science department at Yale University, says one of the famous writer's first articles, describing a new method of making saltpeter, was signed "Thomas Pain." By the time he wrote his celebrated pamphlet, "Common Sense," however, he had added an "e" to his name.

CHEATING UNCLE SAM

Various publications that might well be entitled, "How to Cheat the Government" are available these days. They are not actually so titled, but their intent is unmistakable. They offer a kind of conducted tour through loopholes in the federal income tax laws.

The need for guidance in making out income tax returns is scarcely open to question. The law is complex, and not always easy to interpret. But there is an important difference between helping a man to pay no more or no less than he owes Uncle Sam, and helping him to evade the spirit if not the letter of the law.

The sad thing is that many citizens welcome the latter kind of guidance. They even take a sort of pride in evasions that cheat the government of revenue to which it is entitled. Only they don't call it cheating. They are more likely to call it being smart. If pressed, they may grumble, "Well, everyone else does it."

Two pertinent facts come to mind. The first is that by no means does "everyone else" do it. Millions of taxpayers make strictly honest tax returns, with no intent of evasion. The second pertinent fact is that those who rig their incomes to take unjustified deductions cheat not only something vague called the government but also their more honest fellow citizens and, eventually, even themselves.

Taxes are extremely high; there's no gainsaying that. There is reason to believe that they could be lowered if certain economies were put into practice. But it is each citizen's obligation to pay taxes as his income and circumstances honestly require. Advice on how to cheat does the country a disservice.

SHIPPING BOOM

Shipyards the world over are building more merchant vessels than at any time since the end of World War II. About seven million gross tons of shipping is now under construction. It is an interesting measure of what can be accomplished when men are able to direct their energies to the ways of peace rather than of war.

The United Kingdom is the biggest ship builder of all. It has 355 vessels abuilding, with a total tonnage of more than two and a quarter million. Japan, in second place, has pushed its volume of construction over the million-ton level. The United States, though not one of the biggest builders, has moved into 11th place.

An optimistic view, yet one that is not unrealistic, would have it that this activity bodes well for the future of the world. Though ship builders are no better at foreseeing the future than anyone else is, the tonnage they have on the ways seems to indicate a healthy confidence in what is to come.

Seven million tons of warships would have but one purpose, to fight or be ready to fight. Except in this warlike sense, they would not contribute to society but would be a drain upon its resources. But such tonnage of merchant ships is a noteworthy strengthening of the sinews that bind nations together.

BRITISH BOOKKEEPING

The British battle for a balance of trade never ceases. In recent months the government has imposed a new austerity program to curb inflation, consumer spending and, chiefly, the demand for imported goods.

Taxes on many goods have gone up, installment buying has been made more difficult, production depending on imported materials has been slowed down.

The results are beginning to show. In March Great Britain exported more goods than in any previous month, and the margin of imports over exports was the smallest in nearly a year.

But even so, Britain spent nearly $133,000,000 more for the goods of other countries than it earned by selling its own abroad in that month.

It is an uphill fight for an island that simply does not hold enough in natural wealth to supply a satisfactory proportion of its needs in this industrial world.

Agriculture isn't doomed yet. The price of farm land keeps going up.

STATE DEPARTMENT JOBS

Back in 1951, only 693 Americans took written examinations for jobs in the State Department, but in 1955, the number rose to 7,402. When I came across this comparison, it occurred to me that the Foreign Service, which had had such a bad reputation for being a refuge for men and women of queer habits and queer ideas, must have done a very thorough job of house-cleaning to make itself so attractive.

The Foreign Service has been more self-conscious than some other departments of government to rid itself of those who embarrassed their government either by their habits or their ideas. Scott McLeod, who is in charge of personnel and recruitment, has often been attacked but the justification for his work lies in the increasing popularity of State Department work as a career. The figures indicate that young people who go in for the Foreign Service are either no longer kidded about the association or no longer mind it.

There has been too great an emphasis on scientific and engineering training for young people in this period when there is a great need for scientists and engineers. These things run in fashions. When I was at college long ago, law and medicine were the fashionable careers. Nowadays the young fellows go in for science and engineering of one kind or another and although the colleges make a lot of noise about the humanities, the distribution of subjects and points is such that when a young fellow has taken his majors and the supporting subjects, he has little time left for an education. He is being trained, not educated. He is being trained for a job, trained to earn a living not educated to think.

It must be a trying administrative problem in the universities to divide the time so that a scientist will also read history and philosophy and that a pre-med student will know something about government and economics and languages. It may, because of the tremendous volume of data in all scientific fields, become necessary to make the college courses five or six years instead of four, the first three years devoted to education and the last two or three to training. Maybe this is impractical and too costly, but it also would appear to be impractical to put a man through four years of mostly specialized training with only a small dose of cultural courses. The proletarization of the college-educated citizen surely does not provide the leadership the country needs as much as it needs scientists and engineers.

The Foreign Service is recruited principally from men and women in the colleges who take cultural courses, have facility in foreign languages and who know something of history and literature. It is a fairly pleasant way of life if one likes to travel, to live in unusual places, to cultivate good taste in food and wine and a capacity to converse in a mature manner on a variety of topics. The temptations in such positions are greater than they used to be before espionage became an accepted process of diplomacy. But if one lives in a manner that does not lay him open to blackmail, it is not likely that the spies will get anything on him. The homosexual is always open to blackmail and has no place in government service.

Thus far, most of those in our Foreign Service or in the British, who got into trouble were homosexuals who were therefore subject to blackmail and blabber-mouths who had to talk to prove their importance. Most of them, I am told, were fired, although I should imagine that some are still around because it is impossible to get rid of those who are protected by politicians or powerful friends until they fall flat on their faces with a crash. Even so, Guy Burgess would get banged up in a fight with his gentlemen friends and nothing happened to him until he escaped to Russia and his affairs became public property.

On the whole, the career people in our Foreign Service are now of a strictly professional type. It can remain that way only if the personnel is closely watched and I would say that the exposures by Congressional committees did a lot of good as the figures of recruitments show. It was the expansion of the department for war purposes that brought in most of the rot.

That Body of Yours

IATROGENIC DISEASE

We read in "Therapeutic Notes" of what has come to be called "iatrogenic" disease which refers to situations where, as a direct result of the physician's examination, attitude, treatment or management of the patient, the patient is wrongly led to believe that he has an organic illness. We have distinguished before between "organic" illness where there is actually something wrong with some particular organ and "functional" illness in which there is nothing wrong actually with the organ but something is disturbed in the manner in which it works or functions.

All ill persons and those who think they are ill are subject to anxiety. They are in a state of greater or lesser emotional despondency on the physician which gives him a more important influence than any particular course of treatment he might prescribe. What he says and does and also what he may not say or do become very important to the patient. A casual remark, an inflection of the voice, an unwitting facial expression may be misinterpreted by the patient and cause him to assume that his condition is more serious than it actually is. A hasty or incomplete examination may undermine the patient's confidence, while overly persistent use of drugs of doubtful value and unnecessarily frequent visits tend to fix the notion of a serious illness in the patient's mind.

It is pointed out that there is no substitute for time spent on taking a careful history—what the patient can tell about his symptoms, his past health, that of his parents and brothers and sisters, and so forth. "It is particularly worth while to attempt to discover what the patient himself thinks of his symptoms for he may well be fearful of a disease far more serious than is actually the case. Anxiety resulting from such fears is a frequent source of functional complaints. Too often a physician may assume from the patient's descriptions of his symptoms that there is actually an organic disease present."

Another error which may produce iatrogenic disease is to dismiss the patient with a diagnostic label, that is stating that he has some certain condition present but without explaining to him exactly what it is. Also, the physician may attempt to cover up his own uncertainty as to what is actually wrong with vague hedging phrases such as, "You are all right but be a little careful of your heart and take it easy." Once the physician is reasonably convinced of the absence of organic disease, he must so inform the patient in no uncertain terms, being willing to assume the risk of a positive statement. He should explain the nature of functional complaints in simple but complete terms and he should always remember that information that may arouse anxiety should never be given lightly.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Nothing very concrete on making the North Atlantic Treaty Organization something more than a military alliance is expected to come from the NATO Council meeting in Paris.

This idea was given its first official American endorsement in Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' recent New York speech. The project has been advanced for some time by Canadian, French and Italian government leaders.

It will be discussed fully by the 15 NATO country foreign ministers and their advisers. Dulles heads the U. S. delegation and is spokesman, as usual.

An international commission is expected to be set up to study the question. But little or no action to enlarge the functions of the seven-year-old NATO is now expected before the Council meets again next December.

If this seems like the usual diplomatic slow motion, there is good reason for it. The United States does not want to drift into an ill-defined international relationship.

THE GENERAL assumption has been that the European aim is to make NATO more of an economic alliance. Fearing the end of U. S. foreign aid programs, it would be natural for European leaders to try conversion of military assistance to economic support.

This idea was given some emphasis by Dulles' last press conference, but it is now believed to be an incorrect interpretation of the American point of view.

OEEC—the Organization for European Economic Cooperation, a Marshall Plan offspring — now functions effectively in this field and it takes in more than the NATO countries. The Schumann Plan, European Coal and Steel Community, and the EURATOM organization, for developing peaceful uses of atomic energy, also tend to build up economic unity. No particular point is seen in trying to duplicate these efforts.

THE ONLY international economic relationship unorganized is that between Europe on the one hand, the U. S. and Canada on the other. But it is regarded as oversimplification to say that the only purpose in enlarging the scope of NATO is to tie America closer to Europe economically.

Where the strengthened NATO organization is now believed to have the greatest opportunity is in furthering political unity of purpose in the western world.

The U. S. would enter such a political alliance with very definite reservations.

This country does not want to be considered just a European power. It is a world power, with definite interests in the Pacific, in Latin-America and all free areas.

Furthermore, the United States does not want to become tied to the old European system of colonialism. This country wants to be free to help former colonial areas like Indonesia and the Indo-Chinese states in their new independence.

THE PROBLEM of Cyprus concerns three NATO countries —Britain, Greece and Turkey. Solving its status would be a natural subject for NATO political action.

Unification of Germany is another issue to which all western European countries could give their backing through unified, NATO political action.

Eventually—but perhaps not for some years—North African policy questions might be considered in NATO. Today they are too touchy. And the United Nations is too big a forum for tackling such local issues.

The United States does not want to get bogged down in international consultations. It does not want to spend so much time discussing issues that no NATO action would ever be taken.

Basic to this whole concept of expanding NATO's functions is the necessity of creating unity among the western countries. This unity is intended to replace the succession of suicidal wars which have torn Europe apart, once every generation, for the last 100 years.

LeMay's Testimony Regarded As Vindication of MacArthur

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 2—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command of the United States Air Force, has made a sensational revelation. Historians of the Korean War will note it with extraordinary interest. He confirms, in effect, what Gen. Douglas MacArthur said five years ago — that the United States could have won the war in Korea and could have changed the whole face of things in the Far East by using maximum power against the Red Chinese bases in Manchuria.

Gen. LeMay didn't discuss the Korean War nor Gen. MacArthur's views as such, but his answer to a prepared question leaves no doubt that the United States made a fatal mistake in failing to press the war to a victorious conclusion in Korea in 1950 and 1951. Here is the question asked by the Senate Armed Forces subcommittee and Gen. LeMay's answer:

"Q. Does the Strategic Air Command now have combat effectiveness sufficient to enable it to discharge its principal responsibility?

"A. Yes; at the present time and in spite of recent Soviet gains in aircraft and weapons technology and production, it is considered that the Strategic Air Command continues to maintain sufficient advantages over the Soviet offensive capability to enable accomplishment of its primary roles.

"WE MUST recognize, however, a new factor has entered the equation, and that is that the Soviet Union has a long-range attack capability that it did not have five years ago. This factor creates the possibility of an initial surprise attack upon the Strategic Air Command which, in turn, would reduce its deterent power and retaliatory capability.

"However, under any reasonable set of assumptions, we believe we now have the capability of winning any war the Soviets might start. We are not capable of winning it without this country's receiving very serious damage. Five years ago we could have won the war without the country's receiving comparatively serious damage."

Five and six years ago means 1950 and 1951. That was the time when the European Allies of the United States faltered and influenced the Truman administration not to apply maximum power in Korea. The European Allies had only token forces in Korea. America and South Korea, however, had hundreds of thousands of troops in the battle area. The decision to refrain from bombing the bases in Manchuria and the Communist supply lines encouraged Red China to press on with its major intervention in November, 1950. The result of this conflict was a total of more than 33,000 American boys killed and 103,000 wounded. The casualties for South Korea were many times that number.

When Gen. MacArthur, who was the United Nations Commander - in - Chief in Korea begged in 1950 for authority to fight back against the enemy, his request was turned down. A few weeks later he was summarily dismissed by President Truman. The excuse made was that he was "insubordinate," although no hearing was ever given him by Mr. Truman. Gen. MacArthur's recommendations were criticized at the time by Truman officials as likely to plunge the nation into a third world war. In Congress this was the argument offered by Senators who were, in effect, apologizing for the Truman action in removing Gen. MacArthur.

BUT TODAY Gen. LeMay reveals that such was the air power of the United States in 1950 and 1951 that, if the battle had been pursued in Korea, there would have been a victory. This means that Soviet Russia in all probability would never have involved herself in a losing war just to save Red China. It would have been highly dangerous for internal reasons, as the Soviet rulers were afraid to start a war that might turn into a revolution.

Gen. LeMay's testimony is of transcendent importance entirely apart from its value in retrospect. He has outlined what is needed if a war were to start tomorrow — and he apparently feels America is still ahead in air strength, though it would suffer damage from long-range air attack. He warns, moreover, that by 1960, unless important increases in the United States air program are made now, the enemy's striking power will have grown stronger than ours.

TIME HAS BEEN on the side of the Soviets due to the fatal mistake made in Korea by the United Nations. Will time aid Soviet Russia to the point where her rulers may feel strong enough to risk a war in 1960? Congress is concerned about the answer to this question, and that's why so much attention is being given now to an examination of plans for the war that might have to be fought four or five years hence.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 1—The judges of the Federal courts in New York are licking wounds inflicted on April 9 when Glenn O. Young, a lawyer from Sapulpa, Okla., busted the whole bench of them with a brief as friend of the court in the case of Lucille Miller. She is the Green mountain patriot who was dumped into two lunatic asylums by the Federal Court for Vermont and the Department of Justice for more than two months, all told. Mrs. Miller got into a jam by counselling draftees to refuse to comply on the ground that compulsory military training and service in time of peace are involuntary servitude, in other words, slavery.

Young is a stranger to Mrs. Miller and her husband, Manuel, who got a year in a federal prison yet to be selected for brandishing a B'ar rifle at the U. S. marshals when they went to snatch Lucille from their little white clapboard home on a dirt road up a mountain and fetch her to the stinking old firetrap called St. Elizabeth's, in Washington, D. C. There, 48 hours later, she did matriculate for "observation." However, she was so much smarter than her adversaries that the Department of Justice was relieved to get her off its hands and even Judge Ernest W. Gibson, of Vermont, who first poked up this hornet's nest, admitted in her trial that she was of "obviously good mind."

He said it was tragic to him "that you choose not to use your great talents in a good way, to influence people, or to write, as you do well, things that I think would do a great deal of good. * * * So long as you look after your children, you will be all right."

Young said the whole job was nothing but a "planned program to punish her for deviationism in her writings." He said Lucille was indicted apparently on a presumption that her writings were the work of a sane and responsible woman. Then Gibson sent her to an insane asylum because an affidavit was filed charging that the same writings indicated insanity. Later she was convicted of advising citizens to violate the Draft Law so the court now switched ground and the same judge who had sent her to Bedlam found her guilty of writing things which "he thought she should not write, since she wrote so well."

Young "submitted" to the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, sitting in New York, that Louis G. Whitcomb, the U. S. attorney for Vermont, and two doctors should be prosecuted "for perjury and false swearing which resulted in the incarceration of a woman 'with obviously a good mind' who writes well, in an insane asylum." He asked impeachment of Judge Gibson "for gross abuse and misuse of the powers of judicial office and disregard of his oath to respect and observe the Constitution of the United States."

As for Gibson's promise that Lucille would be unmolested on probation for five years if she would "lookafter" her children, Young said it was none of Gibson's business whether the children were cared for by their mother, their father or a nurse. Unless, as Young put it."lifetime federal judges, even in inferior courts, have become pater familias after the manner of kings."

The truth is, Young wrote, that the Millers refused to have lawyers because "in the process of federal judges gathering to themselves absolute authority over the lives, liberty and property of every citizen, lawyers, as officers of the court, have fallen short."

"Depending on the court's favor for a livelihood," he said, "they no longer are courageous champions of the rights of their clients. Successful lawyers before the federal courts are far too often cringing, servile cowards fearful of incurring the wrath of one who has power summarily to commit them to jail for indefinite periods or impose unlimited fines for a loosely defined and poorly regulated offense known as contempt of court. Far too many thrive on lucrative connections with relatives of the judge or his former partners or associates while those not so favored scarcely dare to enter the luxurious chambers where the judge is himself, the court; the others, including the jury too often mere sycophants, tolerated only by the grace of 'his honor' for color and appearance's sake.

"Evidencing the ever growing contempt of the federal judges for the Constitution, the jury and lawyers, alike, is the practice of inferior federal judges in taking over the impanelling of the jury, commenting on the evidence, often themselves testifying, browbeating and humiliating lawyers, especially those not in the good graces of the court. In the Tenth Circuit a program recently was exposed for actually 'bugging' jury deliberations to discredit the jury system—and the judges declared there was no law to punish or to condemn the practice. One wonders what would happen should a judicial conference be 'bugged.'"

Manuel Miller recently had asked for 30 days more time before arguing his own appeal. Judge Harold Medina, the self-acknowledged hero of the long, disgraceful farce in which Red lawyers for the leading Communists insulted the court day after day, sneered at Miller, "so you're the fellow who thinks he is so smart he doesn't need a lawyer." Miller remarked that Medina had been more courteous to traitors than to patriots.

Judge Edward Lombard said: "I just think you are trying to keep out of jail a little longer." Actually, Miller had to ask for a delay because he didn't have a transcript, but the judges kicked him around in this manner, little dreaming that Young, out in Sapulpa, would have the effrontery to kick them back.

Ottawa, May 3 (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority's 1955 report shows that about two-thirds of the work completed up to Dec. 31, 1955, was in the Montreal area.

The report says $10,602,896 was spent to acquire assets and pay for work in the Lachine section of the seaway south of Montreal.

Works and acquired assets up to last Dec. 31 totaled $15,272,941.

The report was submitted yesterday in the House of Commons.

A Fine Thing!

Detroit (AP)—While Rose Anna Tendler's parents were away on a trip, Rosa opened a letter from Adrian, Mich., police saying that her father owed $1 for illegal parking. Rosa, 12, promptly mailed in a dollar bill. When her father came back, he hit the ceiling. He had never been in Adrain and told Rosa he wouldn't pay her the dollar back. Rosa wrote a polite note to Adrian police explaining the situation and asking for return of her dollar. She got it, along with a note of apology—there had been a mixup in license numbers.

Emergency Capital

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Mankato Teachers College in southern Minnesota will become the state capital if an enemy attack makes it necessary to evacuate the capital here. Selection of the emergency site was announced by Col. Hubert Schon, state civil defense director.

Buffalo Upset Over Big Raises For City Officials

Buffalo, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Proposed pay increases for the mayor and other city employes has set off a political furor here.

Some persons felt so strongly about the pay hike of $5,000 annually for Mayor Pankow that they have threatened to "shoot him.

John V. Kane, the mayor's secretary, said yesterday that several anonymous callers have threatened violence to the mayor and other city officials in line for the proposed pay increases.

Mayor Pankow, a Democrat, unveiled a sweeping salary adjustment program last weekend to be financed by a $2,200,000 salary fund already provided in the budget for 1956-57.

Under the plan, Pankow's salary would be raised from $20,000 to $25,000 annually; Comptroller Chester Kowal's would go from $15,000 to $20,000; Council President William B. Lawless Jr's from $12,000 to $15,000, and the 14 remaining councilmen would get increases from $6,000 to $7,500 or $8,000 a year.

The salary schedule covers all the city's 6,500 employes with those in civil service classifications getting raises scaled from $140 a year to $1,050.

It was the proposed boosts for the top officials, however, that was causing the turmoil among politicians and taxpayers alike.

The Democratic Council approved the schedule Tuesday in the first step towards its final passage. The final vote on the pay plan comes in two weeks.

Sassafras Tea!

Sebree, Ky. (AP)—Orrie Donahoo, who digs and sells sassafras roots, is negotiating with a mill to grind up the roots for marketing as powdered tea. He would call the product "instant sassafras."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bad Contract Made Good

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Writen for NEA Service

South felt very silly when he reached the unlovely contract of five hearts in today's hand. Five of a major is more dangerous than a game and is not more profitable. Nevertheless, even fine players sometimes get themselves into such dangerous contracts while exploring slam possibilities.

South could have been defeated in today's hand had the defenders taken the ace of spades and the two top diamonds at once. The club opening lead gave South a fighting chance for his contract, and he took full advantage of this chance.

Declarer won with the queen of clubs, drew two rounds of trumps, and then ran the rest of the clubs, discarding spades from his hand. Fortunately, the player with four clubs also had the last trump and therefore couldn't ruff.

Declarer next led the king of spades from the dummy. East covered with the ace, and South ruffed. South then got back to dummy with the queen of hearts and cashed the queen and Jack of spades. This furnished 10 tricks, and South still had a trump for his vital 11th trick.

Just the same, South is going to be a bit more careful the next time about venturing past the level of game!

Redeemer Ladies To Hear Speaker, Musical Program

The guest night program of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers street, at 7:30 o'clock this evening will feature a varied musical program and a guest speaker.

An invitation has been extended to the women of the congregation and their friends to attend the guest night with their daughters to hear Sister Mabel Walther, representing the Board of Deaconess Work of the United Lutheran Church in America. Sister Mabel, after graduating from the Lutheran Deaconess Training School in Philadelphia, attended the School of Nursing at Wagner Lutheran College, Staten Island, graduating cum laude in 1953 with a degree of B.S. in nursing. William J. Mould, who was guest preacher at Redeemer Church last Sunday was a member of the same Wagner graduating class.

Since graduation, Sister Mabel has served on the staff of the Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia and the summer camp for girls of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England in Palisades Interstate Park. Sister Mabel will speak to the women and girls on the opportunities offered to young women in the field of full-time service to the Church.

A group of young women from Redeemer will present a program of vocal and instrumental music to complete the evening program.

Volunteers to assist in setting the tables the evening before, and to serve the luncheon that day will be appreciated. Kindly give your names to Mrs. Wilbur VanWyck or Mrs. Burton Ward.

Roller skating for the night of May 14 has been postponed to Wednesday night, May 17.

AMERICAN MENU

Start Mother Off Right With Breakfast in Bed

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Let mother feel pampered on May 13th, Mother's Day. Certainly a luxurious breakfast tray lovingly prepared by her children and brought to her bedside would delight her.

With only a little help from Dad, the young members of the family can prepare the following breakfast for Mother:

Orange juice, either from a carton or reconstituted frozen; scrambled eggs; buttered toast and jelly and full-bodied instant coffee.

Our youngster, Pat, likes to break the eggs directly into a skillet in which he has melted a tablespoon of butter, then stir well with a fork to mix. If your children are not tall enough to reach the range, let them break the eggs, using a spatula, into a cup or bowl and mix with a fork before slipping into the pan.

The instant coffee should be measured with care to produce the full-bodied brew Mother prefers. Make it in a cup or a small pot to be kept hot and steaming.

Let the very youngest children measure out the coffee, but have Dad pour the boiling water.

DOING HIS PART, young Pat Maddox carefully measures instant coffee in preparing his Mother's Day breakfast tray.

Mother's Day Scrambled Eggs—
(1 serving)

2 eggs, salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons milk or light cream, 1 tablespoon butter.

Break eggs one at a time into a cup. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add milk. Stir the mixture with a fork. In the bottom of a small skillet, melt the butter and add the egg mixture. Cook slowly, gently lifting from the bottom and sides with a spoon so the liquid can flow to the bottom. Avoid constant stirring. Cook until set but still moist. Eggs will continue cooking from retained heat in the skillet after it is removed from the range.

Variations: Add a sprinkling of dried herbs to the eggs before cooking. Or, crumble ½ of a 3-ounce package of chive cream cheese into the egg mixture before cooking. Or, serve the scrambled eggs on toast spread with deviled ham.

Youngsters' Shirred Eggs—
(1 serving)

1 teaspoon butter, 1 tablespoon light cream, 2 eggs, salt, pepper, paprika.

Heat oven to 325 degrees F. Butter individual shallow baking dish. Pour cream into dish. Break eggs into dish. Sprinkle with salt. Bake uncovered 12 to 18 minutes. Serve from baking dish.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Boiled tongue, cream horseradish sauce, boiled new potatoes, butter baby beets, rye bread, butter or margarine, grapefruit sections and lettuce salad, warm ginger bread, cheese, coffee, tea or milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Morvel of Creek Locks and Marshall Wood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood.

Jail Burglarized

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—A burglar broke into the city jail and stole eight pounds of boloney, five pounds of cheese and three dozen eggs. He left blood on the window, and police said after examining the prisoners for fresh cuts, that they were sure it was an outisde job.

Spanking Troubles

Detroit (AP)—Spanking in public schools has been approved by the Detroit Council of Parent-Teacher Assns. but only after a spanking hot argument over the issue. The leader of the no-spanking faction twice was cut off the public address system and one pro-spanking man offered "to show the anti-spanking gentleman out of the hall." Final vote to support the spanking policy was 151-83.

Weighty Problem

Chickasha, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. C. W. Harrell is going to double check from now on when she gives away anything to the junk man. She discarded an old set of scales from her place of business. Several days later the hauler reported he examined the old scales and took out 256 pennies. The scales had been out in back of her store for eight years.

Shokan

Shokan, May 3—Mr. and Mrs. Merle McCollmum and two children who have occupated one of the L. F. Ruckert apartments in the village center several months, moved Saturday to Lake Hill. The McCollums will make their home in a dwelling owned by Mrs. McCollum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van Howland.

Callers here the latter part of the week included Fred Kronewett of Tenafly, N. J. He was formerly a summer boarder at the Otto Grossman house which is now operated by the Rudolph Rossmans.

Frank Sharwell, retired YMCA secretary, is reported a patient at Kingston Hospital following a sudden attack of illness, Tuesday, April 26.

Mr. and Mrs. John Buck, Jr., and children were Shokan callers Saturday. The War 2 veteran and his family now live at Stony Hollow and they also have a camp at Rifton.

The Ashokan WSCS met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Heiser on the Ashokan mountain road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradfield and daughter were in Shokan Sunday. Frank is the New York Central's station agent at Arkville.

Mrs. Henry Gebelein of the village center is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Carlson of Van Steenburgh road.

The Rev. Richard Coons and wife moved here Saturday. They bought the Fredenholm cottage adjoining the telephone building last winter.

The Ashokan Methodist Church WSG met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alva Buley, Jr., in the Tonche Mountain neighborhood.

Richard Jordan of New York and Woodstock was a Shokan caller Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Francis and children, Brante, Valerie and Lisa, of Webster spent Tuesday night, April 24, with Mrs. Francis' brother, Eugene Johnson and family. Mr. Francis is production manager for the air filter division of the Dollinger Corporation of Rochester.

Settlement Withdrawn

Farmingdale, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Republic Aviation Corp. today withdrew its proposed settlement after striking members of Local 1987, International Assn. of Machinists, voted 3-to-1 to continue their 11-week strike. "Republic has made every effort to bring about a fair, generous settlement of our differences," said Republic Vice President John J. Ryan in a statement.

Original home of lettuce is said to be India.

House Passage Due

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's farm soil bank headed toward expected House passage today as party leaders dickered over possible compromise details. Republicans were making conciliatory gestures, and Democrats already had given ground on some points at issue. Still at issue was the President's disputed request for authority to pay up to 500 million dollars to farmers this year in advance of fulfillment of their soil bank commitments on next year's crops.

Births Recorded

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

April 19—Candace Eileen to Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Miller, 16 Pine street.

Wallkill

Willing Workers Plan Strawberry Festival

Wallkill, May 3—At an executive meeting of the Willing Workers held Tuesday evening complete plans were made for the strawberry festival. Date selected was Wednesday, June 13 with servings beginning from 5 p. m. The cafeteria supper menu will include both turkey and ham and tickets are on sale by various members of the church, or may be had by contacting Mrs. Joseph W. Morris, ticket chairman.

In charge of the dining room will be Mrs. George Crist and Mrs. Claude Decker with the usual kitchen committee headed by Mrs. Herman Mahlandt and Mrs. Lester Mack.

Final plans were made to put on the turkey dinner for the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet. The dinner will be held Wednesday, May 23 in the Reformed church hall. Tickets will be on sale by members of the Chamber and the ticket chairman, George Heitmann this week.

Would Delay Trial

New York, May 3 (AP)—The city government today attempted to delay a trial scheduled for tomorrow on whether a controversial parking lot should be built in Central Park. It also announced it will appeal to the Appellate Division as to whether the trial should be held at all. State Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hofstadter on Tuesday issued a temporary injunction blocking the city from proceeding with the lot on motion of mothers whose children used the area for play purposes. At the same time he set tomorrow for trial on whether the injunction would be made permanent.

Session Is . . .

emergency aid. Such aid would be available to the school districts that have their annual budget meetings in July, he pointed out.

"IT SHOULD include aid to common school districts which have already met and approved their budget for the coming year," he said. Mr. Davis conceded that in some instances consolidation of the smaller districts would be beneficial, "but to penalize districts for no consolidating by substantially reducing state aid, and in some instances eliminating it entirely, is surely not the proper way to proceed."

Mr. Mansfield said he had received no official reply from the governor and "it would seem to me that the governor is using the matter of income tax payment as a means of side-stepping the issues that are involved.

A member of the Tillson Civic Association, Mr. Mansfield is the father of three sons, Howard 3d, a student at St. Peter's parochial school, Rosendale, Gregory, 6, and Richard, 3.

He made it clear that the parochial school his son attends is not eligible for state aid, stressing that his fight was "for the good of the community at large."

IN A STATEMENT to The Freeman today, Mr. Mansfield said:

"It would seem that the governor, in an effort to dodge the actual issue here involved, is attempting to turn the tables by casually stating that 'the fellow will have to pay his income tax.' I am pleased to note that he does agree with me on that point. I feel that I made my position entirely clear to Gov. Harriman originally, and the situation should not be clouded by the inference that I have refused to pay my income tax.

"THE STATE AID which the common school districts have lost is actually money earned during the past year, and the state is dodging a current debt by passage of this law as it now stands.

"If the governor has the best interests of the people in mind, he must realize the hardship that has been placed upon us and will do everything possible to alleviate the situation. The growing pains of our small communities are almost strangling in nature as it is, without being clubbed into submission on the issue at stake. I firmly believe that the vast majority of the people of this state are in sympathy with the principles involved, but Albany will never know it unless the individual citizen rebels against the iron fist which this law has come to be."

Assemblyman Van Duzer told the governor, according to the Associated Press, that many school trustees have gone to the state education department and have been told the governor is responsible for passage and signing of the bill.

"In order to escape their own responsibility," Van Duzer wrote "the education department officials have repeated your campaign promises that no county, no community, no city is going to lose one penny of state aid.

Van Duzer told the governor that "hundreds of taxpayers in rural school districts of your own county of Orange and all over upstate New York are facing a confiscatory tax program sponsored by the education bureaucracy in Albany."

"Your own political career in New York state is threatened because of the impending breaking of your campaign promise," Van Duzer told the governor.

Tarawa Hero Named

Washington, May 3 (AP) — The marines have picked as new boss of their recruit training a hero of bloody Tarawa, Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup. Shoup's job will be to make boys into marines without hazing—and without endangering their lives. He also will have the job of curbing some of the old disciplinary practices of the marines' noncommissioned officer drill instructors without undermining their authority or wrecking their morale.

Britain Is . . .

sending aid to southeast Asia and the Middle East.

In this, he was joining French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who said yesterday France opposes using such aid as a weapon in the cold war.

BOTH BRITAIN and France obviously believe the NATO label would handicap the program in neutralist areas such as India or the Middle East.

Dulles is to present his ideas to the full NATO Foreign Ministers' Council tomorrow.

American sources said it was generally agreed that NATO should not distribute funds to other nations. One question still open was whether the NATO machinery should be used to give aid within the NATO community, as, for example, to underdeveloped regions of southern Italy, Greece and Turkey.

As such, NATO might be duplicating the work already being done by the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC), which includes 17 nations. The U. S. and Canada are not OEEC members, but are closely associated with its work.

AMERICAN SOURCES said there is general agreement that NATO may be useful in coordinating aid policies of member states.

Von Brentano endorsed the link between disarmament and reunification in a meeting this morning with Premier Guy Mollet and Pineau in Mollet's offices.

The French leaders informed Von Brentano of instructions sent two weeks ago to Jules Moch, French representative on the UN disarmament subcommittee in London.

Pineau later told newsmen the West Germans were in "perfect accord" with the instructions. French sources said these would provide for token reduction of conventional forces, followed through by a start on German reunification.

Inmate Wins Appeal

Rochester, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—An Attica prison inmate who described himself as an "ignoramous in legal matters" has won an appeal for a new trial from the Appellate Division, Fourth Department. The court ordered the new trial yesterday for Anthony Mandola, 46, who was sentenced in Supreme Court last June to 20 to 26 years in Attica. No date was set.

British Labor Blamed For Russian Quarrel

London, May 3 (AP) — Pravda today accused leaders of the British Labor party of picking a quarrel with Nikita Khushchev in an attempt to head off the formation of an international Communist - Socialist united front.

Khrushchev, head of the Soviet Communist party, got into a row with Laborite leaders last week when he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were visiting Britain. The British party leaders suggested that Jews and Socialists were being persecuted behind the Iron Curtain and asked the Communist leader to help free those imprisoned.

Khrushchev angrily brushed aside the suggestions as "nonsense." He said there were no social Democrats in the Soviet Union, and the fate of any elsewhere were no concern of his.

His reaction was considered here a blow to the Soviet drive for "popular front" alliances with Socialists and left-wing groups in western Europe. The recent 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party set the formation of such alliances as one of its international objectives.

UN Leader . . .

agreements, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan.

"IN CARRYING OUT my mandate," Hammarskjold reported, "I have stayed strictly within the scope set by the Security Council resolution. (The resolution requested Hammarskjold to survey the various aspects of enforcement and compliance with the armistice agreements between Israel and the four Arab states).

"I have considered it appropriate to give the aim of the resolution and interpretation according to which I should not merely survey and report on the state of compliance which existed at the time of my arrival in the region, but also try to get the parties to re-establish compliance to the greatest extent possible."

Hammarskjold said that he considered the resolution a mandate to negotiate for re-establishment of compliance with the agreements.

"I have considered the basic clauses of the general armistice agreements to be those which established a general cease-fire," Hammarskjold said.

"IT HAS, to me, been obvious that no measures for establishing full compliance with procedural or substantative clauses of the general armistice agreements would be fruitful and lasting unless firmly anchored in a reaffirmation of the duty of all parties concerned to observe a cease-fire.

"You have already circulated documents indicating that, at an early stage I received such assurances from the governments of Egypt and Israel. These reciprocal assurances served to relieve the threatening situation in the Gaza area where conditions have since considerably improved as a result of strict orders issued by the two governments. I have already informed you that I received notification that such orders were in force as of 6 p. m. 18 April, 1956, and from that time on.

NEGOTIATIONS for similar reciprocal assurances unconditionally to observe a cease-fire with a reservation as to self-defense have been conducted with the parties to the other three armistice agreements. The negotiations have in all cases been concluded with positive result. The texts of the messages exchanged will be annexed to my final report."

The president of the Security Council, Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, circulated the report immediately to members of the council for their consideration. The report was in the form of a letter to the council president and was dated May 2 at Jerusalem.

In addition to giving the background of the Security Council resolution which sent him on his mission, Hammarskjold said that the task had been such he was not able fully to observe the time limit. He said the need first of all had been to try "to stop the dangerous developments which dominated the situation in the region on my arrival."

DIPLOMATS HERE said they believed he had successfully lowered tension in the area.

In Jerusalem, Hammarskjold had a final meeting with Israeli officials in Premier David Ben-Gurion's office.

The secretary general is heading for home today by way of Cairo and Rome. A squabble over water rights on the Jordan threatened his mission, but he received tentative pledges from Syria, Jordan and Lebanon earlier to help stop the border shooting.

A high Israeli official earlier denied a published report Israel had promised not to resume work on the Jordan river diversion in order to obtain Syrian consent to a cease-fire.

THE CEASE-FIRE agreement has to be unconditional with Syria in the same way as it is unconditional with Egypt, he said.

It is understood this question did not come up at today's Jerusalem meeting.

However it was reported Israel earlier had informed Hammarskjold of the Jordan valley "at any time she deems appropriate."

She's Miss New York

New York, May 3 (AP)—Lael Jackson, a blue-eyed campus queen from Cornell University, Ithaca, will represent New York state in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., in September. The 21-year-old Manhattan brunette, majoring in home economics at Cornell, was crowned Miss New York State last night by the 1956 Miss America, Sharon Kay Ritchie of Denver, Colo.

Bradley Moves

intention, when he took office as president 2½ years ago, of doing away with the small locals.

"Now I don't know what all this means," he complained. "It's all new to me. We tried to make an organization that he could be proud of, then all this happens."

Bradley named union general counsel William B. Mischo to serve as administrator of Local 1816 until a secret vote is taken on the merger with 1814. He further ordered Mischo to seize the smaller local's books, but Anastasia indicated there might be trouble in this direction.

"The local is dead and buried," he said. "It doesn't exist anymore."

The Brooklyn pier boss denied that his local 1827 had engaged in raiding tactics against dock locals. Bradley said the action to suspend Local 1827 was taken by the union executive officers after local officers ignored two previous telegrams ordering them to appear and "straighten out grievances."

The rift between Bradley and Anastasia apparently began another chapter in the stormy history of the ILA, which was expelled from the AFL in 1953 for failure to clean out racketeers. Last week the ILA withdrew from a proposed pact with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, which was threatened with ouster from the AFL-CIO if the deal went through.

Will Make New Try

White Sands Proving Grounds, N. M., May 3 (AP)—Disappointed navy scientists, despite a fizzle on their initial try, are planning another attempt at a new rocket altitude record next week. The first production model of the Aerobee-Hi plunged dramatically to earth in the southern New Mexico desert yesterday, its main motors never fired. Naval research laboratory scientists said there was an apparent failure in the rocket propulsion system. The booster mechanism blasted the research vehicle to only 18,000 feet before it turned its nose down and arrowed into an impact just a mile from the launching tower.

General Riseley Named Personnel Head by Marines

Major General James P. Riseley, native of Shandaken, will become director of personnel at Marine Corps headquarters in May according to an announcement.

He will relieve Major General Robert O. Bare, who will assume command of the First Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif., in June.

General Riseley presently is serving as deputy commander, Fleet Marine Force Pacific.

Since the recruiting branch is within the Personnel Department at HQMC, General Riseley will become directly concerned with the Marine Corps recruiting effort.

A NAVAL ACADEMY graduate and veteran of pre-war expeditionary service in Nicaragua and Haiti, General Riseley saw action during four WW2 campaigns. Gen. Riseley went overseas during WW2 with the 8th Marine Regiment, the first to leave this country after the United States declared war. He won the Bronze Star medal with Combat "V" as executive officer of that regiment on Guadalcanal. Later, after serving as operations officer of the Second Marine Division at Tarawa, he won the Legion of Merit with Combat "V", while commanding the 6th Marine Regiment at Saipan and Tinian.

The newly appointed director of personnel was born on May 7, 1898 at Shandaken. He entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis during WW 1 and graduated with the class of 1922.

Rosendale Flood Group to Hold Meeting Tonight

A meeting of the Rosendale Flood Control committee will be held this evening to further discuss the situation in that area and also to discuss and make plans for future action.

Announcement that the sum of $70,800 had been fixed as the amount of money to be spent during the fiscal year for Rondout creek flood control work, prompted the committee to call a meeting and discuss plans.

At the meeting the committee will review the situation and discuss the proposed flood control project and perhaps come up with recommendations.

Chest Clinics Attendance High

Despite the fact that a number of chest clinics were canceled because of holidays, the attendance to date has been running very full according to an announcement from the clinic of Ulster County TB Hospital.

Sixty-six patients attended he clinic Saturday and 76 X-rays were taken at that time. This is an all-time attendance for the clinic the announcement said.

Drowns in Bath Tub

Troy, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—A woman was drowned in eight inches of water last night when she fell into a bathtub at her home, police reported. Police said Mrs. Amelia P. Kehn, 66, apparently had become ill. She was found lying face down by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Kehn, who had been soaking clothes in the tub.

Duty Curtails Sermon

Sophia, W. Va. (AP)—The Rev. Arlie Mitchem, pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church and a volunteer fireman, said he was right in the middle of a sermon when the fire alarm sounded. "I just had to go," he said, "so I motioned to one of the elders to take over in my place, and I quietly stole away."

Body Is Recovered

Oswego, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—The body of Edward A. Maxon, 56, a city fireman who was killed yesterday in the collapse of a burning building, was recovered today. Firemen and volunteers removed the body from the debris at 9:40 a. m., after working all of yesterday and last night to locate it. The body was discovered about 6 a. m. but it was beneath several beams that had to be cut away before the body could be extricated. Maxon's body lay face down and firemen said his clothing didn't seem to be burned.

One-Way Traffic Is Favored by Uptown Members

Following a poll of the membership of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association, Inc., in regard to the present one way street plan, it was stated today by Louis Kaye, secretary, that of the cards returned 54 were in favor of restoring two way traffic to North Front street and Clinton avenue and 38 were in favor of retaining the present plan.

A meeting of the Association members has been called for Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the court house at which time the referendum will be discussed as well as the parking situation and plans for raising funds to erect the stairway from the parking lot off North Front street to the street level. The sales tax, proposed by Mayor Frederick H. Stang, will also come up for discussion.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

School Band Will Play at Festival

Woodstock, May 3—A group of Woodstock children and members of the Woodstock School Band will participate in the Ulster County Music Association Elementary School Spring Festival. Approximately 130 children from other schools in the county will participate in the event. The festival had been scheduled for May 11, but because of unsettled weather conditions has been postponed to a date early in June, to be announced later. The Woodstock children who will sing in the chorus under the direction of Miss Mary E. Harris are: Sharon Graver, Freddie Sandner, Jay Van Wagenen, Anette Haeussler, Judy Rapp, Nancy Majoros, Joyce Van Voorhis, Edith Heckeroth, Freida Sandner, Susan Foster, Carol Hefty, Sheila Russell, Gladys Terwilliger and Jean Wilson. Those in the band who will play are: Diane Boggs, flute; Barbara Cohn, Kathleen Strickland and Teri Kelley, clarinets; Robert Foster, Fred Strickland, Cappy Foster and Richard Kullmann, cornets.

The entire chorus will be made up of children from the following schools, with their instructors: Saugerties Central, Miss Janice Petersen; New Paltz Campus, Milton Otteson; Marlboro, Miss Sheila Hubbard; Tillson, Mrs. George Bond; Highland, Edgar Norton; Kerhonkson, Angelo Di Vita; Wallkill, Miss Marcello Poppen; Marbletown, West Hurley and Woodstock, Miss Mary E. Harris. Milton Otteson of the New Paltz Campus is serving as chairman for the chorus.

The band of approximately 90 children will be drawn from the following schools, with their instructors: Saugerties Central, Winthrop Emmous; Kerhonkson, Angelo Di Vita; Wallkill, Jack Henderson; Highland, Robert Turner; Marlboro, Joseph Demarais; New Paltz Campus, Milton Otteson; Woodstock, Miss Mary Harris. Miss Mildred Brady of Saugerties is chairman for the band. Each teacher will conduct at least one number.

Barzin Orchestra Ends 25th Year

Woodstock, May 3—The National Orchestral Association concluded 25 years of activity last Tuesday night at Carnegie Hall, New York, with its fourth and last concert of the current season, Leon Barzin, of Woodstock, the group's director during its entire quarter-century history, was the conductor in a short program listing Weber's "Oberon" overture, Debussy's "Nuages" and "Fetes," Wagner's Overture to "Die Meistersinger" and Mozart's "Haffner" Symphony in D major, K. 385.

According to the New York Herald Tribune, "The habitual vivacity of the National Orchestral Association was nowhere lacking Tuesday night, though it was possible to disagree violently with Mr. Barzin's interpretations. One could not, however, disagree with the conductor's approach to his players, nor the firm authority he wields over them. He has, presumably, a stern way with musicians and they respect him for it. They seem, indeed, to take pleasure in his demands and his performances, as a result, are usually honed to a sharp edge. That, at any rate was the condition encountered on this occasion. Every phrase, measure and note fell into its right and proper place; and the final product, in consequence, shone with a genuinely professional luster.

Boy Scouts Prepare Letters to Township

Woodstock, May 3—The Woodstock Elementary School was the scene of the meeting of Boy Scout Troop 34 Monday evening.

The boys prepared letters to be delivered personally by them to all homes in the township of Woodstock. Also at the meeting Explorer Scouts Konrad King and Sylvester Pollet gave a lecture on cooking outdoors.

Allen Waterous, Jr. has rejoined the Boy Scout troop.

At last week's meeting of Explorer Post 34, the scouts talked about the forthcoming Camporee at Camp Tri-Mount in East Jewett. The boys hope to practice on their camping skills in time for the outing.

Scout Fund Group Will Hold Dinner Tonight

Woodstock, May 3—The Boy Scout fund-raising committee will hold a kick-off dinner tonight at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church.

Among those expected to attend are the following committee members: the Rev. Harvey I. Todd and Robert Gordon, co-chairmen; Frank Benson, Nicholas Blazy, Clifford Carnright, Edgar Baker, Griffin Herrick; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holumzer, Roger Jones, Mrs. Montcena DeWitt, Mrs. William Vogel, Mrs. David Mellert, Elbert Matthews, Charles Rapp, Gordon Taylor, William Walsh, Dudley Summers, Clifford Watson, Elbert Varney and Eugene Rathgeber.

The fund-raising campaign ends on May 22. The above-mentioned committee members will conduct a door-to-door solicitation in the township.

Art Students League Opens Season June 4

Woodstock, May 3—The Art Students League will open its summer session in Woodstock, Monday, June 4, to remain open through August 31. Instructors this year will be Arnold Blanch, Frank J. Reilly and Sygmunt Menkes. Classes will be in session five mornings a week, with the three instructors teaching life drawing, painting and composition, landscape painting and illustration. Mr. Reilly will also have classes five afternoons a week, featuring life drawing, painting, landscape painting, composition and illustration.

School Boards Dinner

Woodstock, May 3 — The Woodstock School trustees and Walter Van Wagenen, principal, will attend a dinner Monday night at Kerhonkson, given for the school boards of New York state. There will be a discussion on the education laws recently put through by the legislature.

Andy Lee Field, Pool Will Be Opened July 2

Woodstock, May 3 (AP)—Plans outlined by the Woodstock Recreation Committee, at a meeting of the group last Saturday night include the opening date for the Andy Lee Memorial Field and the swimming pool on July 2. The athletic instructor this year will be John Majoros, and his assistant will be Currie Freer. The pool attendants will be Mrs. Libby Brooks and Miss Diane Mower.

The Explorer Scouts will refurbish the pool as one of their projects.

The first of a series of baseball games was played at Marbletown last Wednesday. Woodstock won, 7 to 6.

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 3—Gertrude Mahan and Waldo L. Smith of Providence, R. I., were the guests this weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Cousins and Mrs. Mollie Higgins Smith. Before they left for Providence on Sunday there was a buffet birthday party given for the twin daughters, Carol and Elaine, of Mr. and Mrs. Cousins. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hoyt, Poughkeepsie, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beckman, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cousins and their three children.

Mrs. Albert Wangler returned to Woodstock Monday after a month's vacation, part of which was spent in Boston, Mass.

A new exhibition, starting on Friday, will open at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, May 2—The Rev. and Mrs. John E. Swords have chosen the topic, "The Rural Family Under God," for the Rural Life Sunday services to be held at the Modena Church Sunday, May 6, at 11:15 a. m. Members of the Clintondale Friends Church will be guests of the Methodist Church members in Clintondale when Chester Coy, lay leader, will be in charge of services. The Rev. Jesse Stanfield will participate and the preacher will be the Rev. Willett R. Porter, pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Church.

Members of the Modena Methodist Youth Fellowship are continuing their present project of preparing the auditorium in the Community Hall for recreational activities, including protection for walls, windows and lighting fixtures. When plans are completed, the auditorium will be available to community groups under proper sponsorship. The kitchen in the hall has been redecorated with pleasing results under the direction of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill, with Ray Burch doing the painting. Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service donated paint for the dining room.

Local members of the Plattekill Grange are planning to attend the family style supper, featuring baked ham and homemade pies on Saturday, May 5, at 5:30 p. m. at the Grange Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Edmunds, Mr. and Mrs. George McMullen will be in charge, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Bauman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barth, Mr. and Mrs. John Labriola, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruggerio, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeLapp, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Longendyke, Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and Miss Elizabeth Fosler. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grismer, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rower will be in charge of the dining room and tickets may be secured from Clifford Hotaling, or any member of the committee.

A meeting of the Public Health Nursing Committee will be held Monday evening, May 7, at the home of Mrs. Roy Jensen.

Tuesday evening, May 8, is the date of the regular meeting of the Democratic Club to be held at 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

The Plattekill Town Board meeting is scheduled Wednesday evening, May 9 at the Town Building, Modena.

Mrs. Alvina Matheisen has returned to her home here, after spending the winter in Passaic, N. J.

Mrs. Marie Douglas and son Robert, have returned to New York city after spending the past weekend at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koonz and son, Eddie of Walden, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Jr., and daughter Judy Lynn on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Winters and son David, entertained Quartermaster 1/c and Mrs. Ralph Keller and son Mark, of Hudson, last weekend. Quartermaster Keller recently returned from "Operation Deep-Freeze" in the Antarctic region with Admiral Byrd. Mrs. Keller, a niece of Mrs. Winters, is the former Phyllis Klyne of Gardiner. The Kellers will leave Hudson for Norfolk, Va. in the near future.

Mrs. DuBois Grimm left recently for Florida to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hernandez and son.

Pvt. Irving Chaiet, son of Samuel Chaiet of New Paltz, formerly of Modena, graduated recently from a special course in electrical device repairs, at the Engineer School in Fort Belvoir, Va. Pvt. Chaiet attended the Westchester Community College prior to entering the service, and received basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

William Palmer of Jamaica, L. I., was a recent visitor of relatives here.

Mrs. Frank E. Crawford of Chelsea, visited Miss Glennie M. Wager Friday afternoon.

Modena firemen were called Saturday to the Rinehart farm, northeast of Modena, where a grass fire spread to a wooded section, and threatened damage to nearby places.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coy of Ardonia, has been named Lynn Patricia.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Harcourt have moved from their former home next to the Modena school, to their newly remodeled home also in Modena. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fowler of Clintondale have moved in the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt and which was recently purchased by the Fowlers.

Mrs. June Klyve, daughter Cindy Lee, and the former's father, Harry Roosa have moved from Irelands Corners to the remodeled house of Primo Fiscelli located on Route 32.

Local students of the Senior Class of the Wallkill Central School, Patricia Pink, Genevieve Smith, Ronald Wager, George Meyer and Monte Smith, are among 50 pupils graduating from the school in June. This is the largest class in the history of the school, it was reported. Of this class, approximately 19 are planning to continue their education with 16 students planning to enter a four-year college course. Twelve seniors have been accepted at the RPI, Clarkson, Manhattan, Fordham, Pratt, Union, Michigan State, State Teachers Colleges at New Paltz, Plattsburg, Albany and Oneonta, and the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing.

Cancer Is Excuse

New York, May 3 (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello, armed with a doctor's affidavit that he has cancer again, has been granted a Federal Court hearing on his new move to escape imprisonment for income tax evasion. Government counsel have been directed to show cause Monday why Costello's five-year term should not be suspended or reduced. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan granted the hearing yesterday after the 65-year-old defendant declared in a court affidavit that "I am a very sick man." Costellos' physician, Dr. Gerald F. O'Brien, said in an accompanying affidavit that the defendant is suffering a melanoma of the left temple and a duodenal ulcer. The doctor described melanoma as "notoriously one of the most malignant and fatal forms of cancer." The doctor said surgery is "imperative."

DOWN IN THE STATION—In cold tunnels—13 below zero—beneath the Greenland icecap, there may soon run electric trains. Army engineers are experimenting with the tunnels, which would permit the United States to move major air bases much closer to the north pole than is now possible. Specialist third-class James Schuster of Phoenix, Ariz., is shown hacking out an ice sample in one of the tunnels.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Food shoppers in many areas will welcome the arrival of local spring vegetables on markets this weekend. They won't be so happy, however, to see higher price tags on a number of meats.

Spinach and asparagus, available in good supply from southern and western states for some weeks, are now beginning to come from local growers in all but the more northern states. Most local asparagus supplies are thin, however, and prices are generally a little high for anyone on the lookout for a good buy.

MEAT PRICES, although still below their levels of a year ago, generally moved up again this week. In recent weeks lamb has made substantial price gains and is now close to last year's figures.

Supplies of pork on wholesale markets were plentiful this week, but prices held firm after a two-week rise.

A variety of beef cuts are the most generally featured weekend specials across the country even though wholesale prices did increase slightly.

EGGS ARE CHEAPER in many sections. Chickens and turkeys were featured specials in some areas while prices went up in others, apparently reflecting local supply conditions.

Looking to the future, the Agriculture Department this week forecast large food supplies for late spring and early summer. It predicted plenty of beef, milk, dairy products, eggs and chickens as record high consumer demand for food continues to expand.

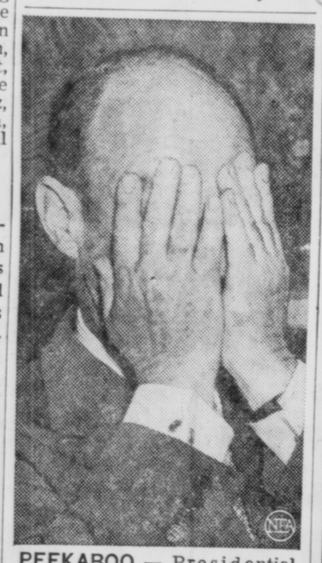

Right now the best buys in vegetables for most parts of the country are spinach and cabbage. Other good buys are potatoes, both old crop and new; peppers, endive, escarole, onions, celery and carrots, lettuce and sweet potatoes.

LOCALLY-GROWN rhubarb is hitting metropolitan markets in the middle states but not in quantity yet.

Oranges and grapefruit continue to be the best buys on fruit counters in most areas.

For fish-lovers, this is the shad season, and there is still almost a month to go before supplies dwindle. On some east coast markets the fish is selling around 19 cents a pound.

The state of Vermont provided news of some comfort to those with a taste for maple syrup. Although the season got off to a bad start, agriculture officials reported, the crop amounted to 399,000 gallons, or 82 per cent of last year's total, and was much more than had been expected.

Trial of Woman Continues for Children's Acts

Geraldine Ray, 27, of 57 Van Buren street who is charged with failure to control her children and inciting them to disturb neighbors, was still on trial in County court today before an all woman jury.

Mrs. Ray is charged with violation of Section 494 of the Penal law and also Section 483, Sub. 2, in that over a period from January 1955 through July 13, 1955, she failed to properly control her children and that as a result neighbors and others traveling on the street were molested.

THE TRIAL went on after its opening when Judge Bruhn denied an application for dismissal of the indictment on the grounds it contained insufficient facts to allege a crime. Joseph Avis, counsel for defendant, moved Wednesday afternoon after the opening for a dismissal of the indictment and he also moved for a bill of particulars but did not press that demand when Judge Bruhn said a recess would be granted if desired and District Attorney Howard St. John informed the court he would be willing to supply any particulars sought. Judge Bruhn said he would permit defense counsel time to prepare to meet any defense which might be needed in the event defense was faced with the element of surprise.

SEVERAL witnesses were called and testified the Ray children, who number seven ranging in age from four months to about 11 years, had thrown stones and sticks and in other ways molested neighbors and persons passing on the street. On many of these occasions Mrs. Ray had been present and never attempted to stop the children.

Among those who testified was the Rev. Howard W. Irvis and his wife who live nearby and testified the Ray children had stoned them and their mother had not interfered.

The police have been called on numerous occasions and one witness testified a stone had been thrown and Mrs. Ray later remarked "how do you like a stone in the head" in the presence of her children.

Neighbors testified Mrs. Ray did nothing to control her children's behavior and permitted them to continue the acts and frequently used vile language.

On cross examination witnesses testified Mrs. Ray did not neglect the "physical needs" of her children but permitted them to annoy the neighborhood.

Winter Road

other three million. Regular funds will be used to complete the repair work, the spokesman said.

The special fund is not part of the 126-million-dollar outlay Gov. Harriman announced yesterday for highway work.

The spokesman said repair operations were "going ahead as fast as possible" but had been hampered in some areas by continued wet and cold weather.

He said the winter damage "wouldn't have been nearly so bad if our highways had not been allowed to fall into such poor condition." Older roads, he said, were less able to withstand the strains of a severe winter.

The department said it was unable immediately to provide a list of roads generally considered to be in poor condition because of age. However, a spokesman for the New York Good Roads Asso. said it was generally conceded that parts of Routes 9, 17 and 11 were most in need of rehabilitation.

The public works spokesman said he was unable to estimate winter damage in past years in comparison to the 10 million of 1955-56.

West Shore . . .

railroad may put the new schedule into effect May 21 or after at least 10 days notice to the public. A PUC spokesman said, however, that it probably will not take effect before September.

Some 4,000 commuters use the West Shore line, which runs from the New York Central's ferry terminal at Weehawken to Albany.

COMMUTER organizations from Bergen county, N. J., and adjacent Rockland county, N. Y., had opposed a move by the railroad to eliminate passenger service entirely, a proposal which the PUC turned down. The railroad then sought to reduce the daily round trips to eight.

The PUC yesterday also ordered the railroad to maintain "adequate ferry service or a satisfactory substitute service" in conjunction with the West Shore line.

The Central has applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to drop the ferry from Weehawken to Manhattan.

Suffers Neck Injury

Sadye W. Katz, 41, of 181 Canal street, Ellenville, suffered a neck injury in a two-car collision at Hurley and Washington avenues Wednesday night. Officers Joseph Keller and Louis Sapp, Jr., reported at 7:43 p. m., that her car and that of Morris Levine, 53, of 129 Highland avenue, were both headed west on Washington avenue, when her car stopped for a light and the other struck it. She was X-rayed at the Benedictine Hospital and was to be treated by her doctor, the report said.

Expect 50 Million Inoculations by Fall

Washington, May 3 (AP)—More than 50 million children should be inoculated against polio by Oct. 30, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele says.

He told a news conference yesterday sufficient Salk vaccine should be available for that program, and he urged a closed meeting of doctors and health officers to continue immunization during the summer months.

The meeting did not express any view of the summer program, Scheele reported. Some doctors have heretofore favored discontinuing the giving of shots during the summer, when the incidence of the disease normally is highest.

Scheele said promised increases in vaccine production will be sufficient to provide two or three shots for all the 53 million children under 15 and for pregnant women who want them. Officials estimate that about 20 million of the women and children already have received one or more shots.

Benedictine

ect will extend into early February.

Decision to proceed with the project follows an extensive survey made in September of 1955 in which many leading citizens were interviewed and a study was made of both the need and the economic conditions of the community. The urgency of taking this step was emphasized by many of those who figured in the study and indication was received by the hospital that the campaign would be favorably accepted and community response would be generous.

"There is every indication," says Msgr. Martin J. Drury, president of the executive advisory board of the hospital, "that Benedictine Hospital is appreciated by the community, that its work will be supported and its needs, which are so clearly demonstrated, will be provided for when we are able to place the problem in an organized way before our people as a whole.

"It is five years since a widespread community appeal has been made in Kingston and Ulster county for Benedictine. Demands on the hospital have grown extensively in that period. This is particularly true in regard to the nursing situation. Hospital facilities can be expanded only as we have nurses to serve in them. Both present and future needs place insistence upon our moving forward as soon as arrangements can be made."

The hospital anticipates understanding and response which will be in the interest of the entire community.

Ground work for the campaign will be under way within a very few weeks, especially with the formation of a campaign advisory committee.

Barkley Goes Home

Paducah, Ky., May 3 (AP)—The body of Alben W. Barkley, elder statesman and master wit, arrives in Paducah today for funeral and burial amid the picturesque setting of his hometown. The special 10-car train bearing the late Kentucky Democratic senator and former vice president was scheduled to pull into Union Station at 12:30 p. m.

the principal speaker. Mr. Ewing, who has had 16 years of experience in the field of local government. From 1940 to 1953 he was a member of the staff of the Rochester Bureau of Municipal Research, Inc. From 1946 to 1953, Mr. Ewing held the position of assistant director. In 1953 he left this bureau to establish his own consultant business. In 1951 Mr. Ewing was the technical member of the city manager's committee on additional revenue in Rochester. This committee studied the local non-property taxes and recommended the adoption of the retail sales tax by Monroe county.

In 1954 Mr. Ewing served as consultant to the mayor's tax research committee in Auburn.

President Silkworth said that Mr. Ewing has been asked to discuss all possible sources of municipal revenues and present arguments for and against the various forms of taxation open to a city and county. Following his talk he has agreed to answer questions about taxes anyone present may care to ask.

eral authorities and others connected with the experiments as statements under oath at legal hearings in which they freely admitted the unreliability of their statistical data."

"In one case, again under oath, the experimenter acknowledged that his experimental work was indirectly sponsored by the manufacturers of fluorides," the Fuller report continued. The work of this experimenter has been used as the principal argument with respect to the safety of the poison fluorine in the human system, the report noted.

IN A STATEMENT issued by Arthur C. Ford, commissioner of the New York City Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, it was declared:

"No satisfactory reason has ever been advanced to show why everyone in a community must be compelled to risk life-long extraordinary exposure to the toxic action of the fluorides, particularly when safer, more effective and more economical ways of administering fluorides for caries reduction in children's teeth have been pointed out and are available."

Ulster to Hold Panel Tonight On Water Plan

A panel discussion of the new water district in the Town of Ulster will be held tonight at a meeting of the Town of Ulster Republican Club in the Ulster Hose No. 5 firehouse at 8 o'clock.

Following a plan recently announced that current issues would be aired at meetings, the panel discussion of the water district now under construction was set down as the topic for this evening.

THE MEETING is open to the public and all interested parties are invited to attend. Questions in the minds of residents and taxpayers of the district will be answered and a "progress" report given. Supervisor Percy Bush, Edward McCaffrey, engineer for the Ulster Water District; Harry Edinger of the Ulster County Department of Health, and Town Attorney Louis DiDonna will be present to discuss the matter.

Weather Action

Des Moines, Iowa (AP) — A group of Iowa farmers are trying to do something about the weather. They've incorporated a new firm called Central Iowa Weather Modification Assn. The organization, with headquarters at Jefferson, Iowa, says its purpose is to "stimulate and encourage research into and practice of the most efficient and economical methods of weather modification, for the benefit of the area in which the members own or operate farm lands."

Samsonville

Samsonville, May 3—Members of the Epworth Choir and Songsters of the Olive Bridge and Samsonville Methodist Churches observing birthdays in April and May were entertained at the Olive Bridge parsonage last Saturday. The children and the Rev. and Mrs. Kishaugh drove to Saugerties to see the Loyalty Day parade. Celebrating birthdays were Rolf Medal, Charlotte Stange, Dennis Marlatt, the Rev. Mr. Kishpaugh and Cathy Langjan.

Family Night at the Olive Bridge Methodist Church, sponsored by the Epworth choir, was well attended. The Rev. and Mrs. John Riebhoff and the Youth Fellowship of the Trinity Methodist Church, Kingston, conducted the worship service. The Rev. Mr. Riebhoff, who was a missionary in Japan, showed color slides of Japan. The Youth Fellowship and Capt. and Mrs. John Banks of the Volunteers of America were entertained at the parsonage after the service.

Two Sentenced

Rochester, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Two men, including a former deputy sheriff, have been sentenced to 3 to 6 years in Attica prison for the $4,477 Prudential Insurance Co. payroll holdup last Nov. 4. John M. Ryan, 26, the former Monroe county deputy, and Lee D. Briggs, 23, already serving a prison term at Attica for third-degree burglary, were given the sentences yesterday in County Court. Both men were convicted April 18 on charges of first-degree grand larceny.

Boy Scout News

Cub Pack 9, sponsored by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, observed annual charter night with recognition of all registered Scouts and the presentation of many awards last Monday evening in the assembly room of the church on Wurts and Rogers streets.

Scout Executive George V. Dennis presented the new charter for the pack to the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the sponsoring church and institutional representative to the Rip Van Winkle Council. He also presented a 100 per cent Boys' Life Banner to Cubmaster Bob Elliott in recognition of the pack's subscription to the national Boy Scout magazine for all Cubs.

DEN MOTHERS Agnes Buboltz, Ernestine Daum, Gertrude Marlowe, and Hilda Sherlock received new registration cards, along with committeemen William Daum, Andrew Gilday, Judson Markle, William Meyer and Cubmaster Elliott.

Cubs of Den 1, William Daum, Robert Elliott and Donald Lane, led the opening ceremony. During the parents meeting, plans were announced for a father-son cook-out on Sunday, May 6. Cubs and their Dads will meet at the church at 2:45 p. m.

Because the March pack meeting was "snowed under," den tables included a variety of exhibits for both March and April theme, "Bottom of the Sea" and "Bird Watchers." Shell collections, seascapes, pictures scrapbooks, a bird-watcher television game, bird charts, a feeding station, and a number of bird houses indicated a great deal of handwork for achievements and electives on the part of the Cubs.

DEN CHIEFS Rudy Hopkins and John Guido assisted in conducting an exciting turtle-race tournament and a bird-hike identification contest provided keen competition among the dens during the main part of the pack meeting.

Den 4 of St. Remy conducted a Bobcat candlelight ceremony to welcome new Cubs Thomas Gilday and Ronald Reynolds and their families into the pack. Cubmaster Elliott, assisted by the committeemen, made the following awards:

Den 1: Bear badges to William Daum and Robert Elliott; gold and silver arrow to Donald Lane.

Den 2: Wolf badge to Thomas Gulday, Lion badge and gold arrow to John Kelse.

Den 3: Wolf badges to Henry Houghtaling and Raymond Cole; Bear badges to Gerard Buboltz, John McCullough, and Paul Richers. Silver arrow to John Coutant and John McCullough.

Den 4: Wolf badge to Wayne Meyer, gold arrow to Kenneth White; one silver arrow to William Reynolds and Robert Smalling; two silver arrows to Bruce Smalling.

Denner's stripes were presented to Donald Lane and Richard Alexander; assistant denner's stripe to Frederick Travis.

ONE YEAR service stars were presented to Cubs Andrew Gilday, Gerard Buboltz, Raymond Krom, William Reynolds, Paul Richers, Robert Marlowe and Bruce Smalling.

Following the closing ceremony, refreshments were served by the mothers of Den 1.

Union Center

Union Center, May 3 — Mrs. Gertrude Tienken and son, Karl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koemm and Miss Patricia Haber recently visited Robert Tienken who is serving his basic training at Bainbridge, Md.

The monthly meeting of the Civic Group will be held May 7 at 8 p. m. at the local school.

Cub Scouts and their fathers will enjoy a father and son outing Sunday afternoon. They will have a cook-out as part of the monthly theme, "Hoboes."

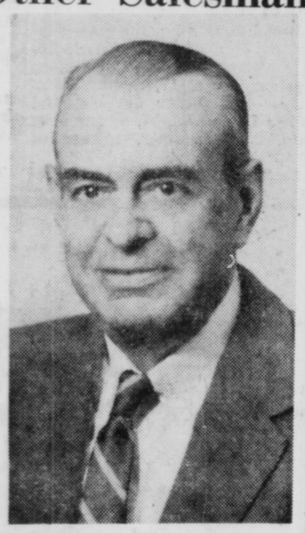

At the annual church meeting it was voted to hold church at 11 a. m. instead of 7:30 p. m. The date the new starting hour becomes effective will be announced.

Briggs Announces Promotion, Addition of Other Salesman

FRED REESE

THOMAS J. MORRISSEY

The addition of Thomas J. Morrissey to the sales staff of J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., and the appointment of Fred Reese as manager to assist Donald E. Briggs, vice president and general manager of the corporation, was announced today by J. Ellis Briggs.

Mr. Briggs said the addition of Mr. Morrissey and the promotion of Mr. Reese had been made to meet the demands of an expanding business.

The firm celebrated its ninth anniversary April 7—nine years that saw the family-operated business increase its volume of business five times. Three employes have been increased to 14.

Mr. Reese, described by Mr. Briggs as "an outstanding salesman," joined the Briggs organization eight years ago. Prior to that he had conducted his own appliance business on Green street.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese and their two children reside at 48 Abbey street. He is a member of the Church of the Comforter and serves as treasurer of the Kingston Boat Club, Inc.

Mr. Morrissey, who has long been associated with the home appliance business in Ulster county, will specialize in the sale of gas and electric appliances and kitchen modernization.

Until recently Mr. Morrissey was employed by the Hiltebrant Dry Dock Co. He is a member of the Church of the Presentation, Port Ewen, and the Town of Esopus American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey reside in Connelly. They have a son, Thomas, and a daughter, Mrs. Albert Salzman of Kingston.

The corporation, one of the largest appliance businesses in Ulster county, sold approximately 1,000 appliances for gas and electricity last year. The firm specializes in gas and home appliances, air-conditioning and kitchen cabinets.

Mr. Briggs was one of the pioneers in today's trend to locate business in outlying areas. The wisdom of establishing an appliance firm at the East Chester street bypass was questioned by astute businessmen.

Nine years since that pioneering venture the correctness of his appraisal has been fully demonstrated.

KHS News

(This column is written each week by members of the Journalism Club of Kingston High School).

SENIOR LEADERS NAMED—One of the highlights of the year for Junior girls is the posting of the names of those who have been elected to Senior Leaders' Club for the coming year. This group of girls chosen for their leadership ability will assist the gym teachers in conducting various intramural sports among the under classmen.

Those named as Senior Leaders for 1956-1957 are Marcia Andrews, Elaine Bertie, Betsy Bechtold, Patricia Brooks, Kathleen Byrne, Jeannette Cross, Nancy DeWitt, Linda Dinerstein, Nancy Domanico, Barbara Dumond, Joan Ellsworth and Carol Epstein.

Others in the group include Karen Fay, June Fisher, Enid Goetchius, Marjorie Harlow, Janet Hornbeck, Kaari Ilves, Patricia Pierman, Jacqueline La Rocca, Bosetta Maniscalco, Patricia Muth, Nancy Natoli, Patricia O'Reilly, Alberta Palmer, Rosemary Penaro and Marcia Petro.

Also named as members of next year's group are Judy Post, Judy Prindle, Linda Rider, Marilyn Roosa, Barbara Schelhammer, Sylvia Sicher, Elizabeth Taylor, Jane Tomaseski, Teresa Turck, and Anita Williams.

Initiation for these new members is being held throughout May and will reach its culmination at the Leaders' Club picnic in June.

JUNIOR PROM SUCCESS—Taking as their theme "Spring Fever," the Junior class held its annual Prom at the Kate Walton Field House Saturday night with 125 couples in attendance. A large wishing well formed the centerpiece with cut out birds, flowers and bees adding their gay colors to the festive scene.

Mimi Basch served as general chairman of the Prom while those assisting her as committee chairman included: decorations, Douglas Chase and Jacqueline Avery; tickets, Arthur Beck; chaperones, Jean Slater; refreshments, Thomas Rowland; orchestra, Curry Freer; publicity, Richard Di Donna and programs, Chris Reitlinger.

Chaperones for the evening included: Mr. and Mrs. M. Clifford Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mones, Mr. and Mrs. Sergeant and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman.

UNDERCLASS PLAY—Seven members of the Freshman-Sophomore Dramatic Club presented the one-act play "Two Crooks and a Lady" before last week's A and B Assemblies. The play was directed by Miss Madeleine Tarrant, instructor of dramatics and advisor of the club.

The young group of enthusiastic actors showed imagination and dramatic talent in interpretation of their roles, and the play was warmly applauded by both assembly groups.

The members of the cast were as follows: Miller, the Hawk, Thomas Wickman; Lucille, his companion and accomplice, Julie Garraghan; Mrs. Simms-Vane, the fast-thinking cripple and possessor of the fabulous diamond necklace, Nancy Stone; Miss Jones, her companion, Marjorie Freese; Police Inspector, Robert Bailey and Garrity, a policeman, Lauren Carpenelli. Judy Krom acted as narrator for both assembly groups.

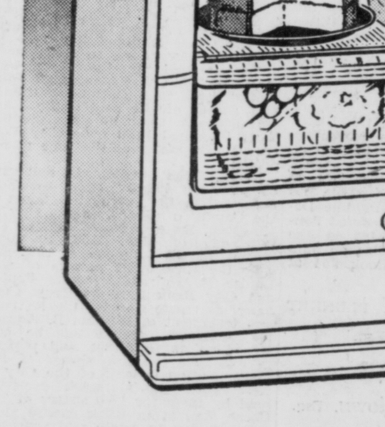

DELHI STUDENT VISITS—Miss Miriam Baird, a senior at the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi, recently visited the high school cafeteria to make a study of its procedures as part of her two weeks tour of cafeteria divisions of hotel, hospitals, schools and restaurants. Upon her graduation in June Miss Baird will enter some phase of dietetics work.

Out of Season

Hawesville, Ky. (AP)—This little town lit up like Christmas when Charles Butler's house caught fire just after dark. Half the residents turned out excitedly and, during the uproar, someone turned on the Christmas lights that had been hanging over the streets since December.

Valley Builders Are Guests at Dutchess Dinner

Over 75 builders from the Hudson valley and their wives attended a cocktail party and dinner at the English Room at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie Wednesday night as guests of the General Electric Supply Company of New York city and the Mission Wood Products Company of Kingston.

Following the dinner representatives of the General Electric Supply Company and the Hotpoint Company explained how Hotpoint appliances have helped builders on Long Island and in Westchester county sell homes and how similar plans can help local organizations.

The rapid industrial growth of the Mid-Hudson valley has transferred much of the building from the Long Island area to the Hudson valley areas and General Electric Supply Company is transferring much of its efforts to this area to give assistance to builders of this area, a spokesman for the company told the assemblage.

SPADER HONORED BY CWV—At its meeting this week in St. Ann's Hall, Sawkill, St. Ignatius Loyola Post 1764, Catholic War Veterans presented a bronze medal and $25 savings bond to Peter Spader of St. Peter's Church as winner in a recent essay contest on "My Place in the World as a Catholic." From left are the Rev. James Dunnigan, pastor of St. Ann's and chaplain of the CWV post; Commander Rogers Murphy, Mr. Spader, a Kingston High School student, and Edward Tomczyk, third vice commander.. Aside from his writing ability, Mr. Spader was chosen for his character, leadership and scholarship. (Freeman photo).

No More Red Faces

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Workers at a hardware making plant can take a drink of beer after work again without turning a cherry red—thanks to State Health Department experts. The department was called in after eight workmen complained that if they drank alcoholic beverages after work their faces and arms would turn red, they were troubled with rapid heart beat, nausea and general discomfort. It was found the workers were breathing fumes from a solvent known as trichloreythlene, used to clean hardware fixtures, and a compound called pyradiene, used to prevent rusting. A toxic reaction to the compounds was triggered by drinking alcoholic beverages. Industrial specialists solved the problem by isolating and ventilating the area where the cleaning solvents were used.

Vehicle Bureau Announces Lists Of Suspensions

Albany, May 3—Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today released a list of Ulster county driver license and motor vehicle registration revocations and suspensions for major causes during the first half of April.

Junior operator licenses suspended, Salvatore J. Alessi, 16, RD, Highland, for speeding; Clarence Rose, 17, Spring Glen, misuse of junior license and James L. Shultis, 17, Wittenberg road, Mt. Tremper, misuse of junior license.

License revoked for conviction of driving while intoxicated, William Clay, 40, of 80 South Manor avenue and also convicted of violation of 20-4, Learner's Permit.

Licenses suspended for bail forfeiture on third violation committed within 18 months, William J. DeAngelis, 24, of 200 Tremper avenue.

Licenses revoked for conviction of a third violation committed within 18 months, Gunter Von Holten, 22, RFD 2, Box 256, Highland, for two speeding charges and one misdemeanor; Michael Christoforo, 18, of 54 Yeoman street for one speeding violation and two misdemeanors.

License suspended for persistent violations under the point system, Richard D. Emerick of 14 Otis street, for 30 days.

Licenses revoked for conviction of leaving the scene of an accident, Raymond Brundage, 44, of 69 Prospect street.

Milk Trucks Fight Fire

Albany, Minn. (AP)—Eight milk trucks, each loaded with 3,000 gallons of water, provided firemen with water to fight a blaze at a railroad overpass. The trucks hustled back and forth with their sloshing cargoes, keeping a supply of water available for fire engine pumping equipment until the flames were brought under control.

SEND GREETING—

WHEREAS, Louise M. Howland, of 7756 Eads Avenue, La Jolla, California, Martin Fenton, of Greenville, Delaware and City Bank Farmers Trust Company, a domestic corporation having its principal office and place of business at 22 William Street, in the City, County and State of New York, have made application to this Court by a duly verified petition praying that this Court construe the investment powers of said petitioners, as trustees under the last will and testament of William B. Rochester, late of the County of Ulster, deceased, so as to direct petitioners to exchange the 1000 shares of The Chase National Bank of the City of New York capital stock presently held by them for 1250 shares of The Chase Manhattan Bank capital stock and continue to retain said shares of the said Chase Manhattan Bank stock in like manner as if they had been owned by William B. Rochester at the time of his death:

NOW, THEREFORE, you and each of you are hereby cited to show cause before the Surrogate's Court of the County of Ulster, in the City of Kingston, State of New York, on the 28th day of May, 1956, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day why the investment powers of said Louise M. Howland, Martin Fenton and City Bank Farmers Trust Company, as trustees under the last will and testament of William B. Rochester, deceased, should not be construed so as to direct said persons to exchange the 1000 shares of The Chase National Bank of the City of New York capital stock presently held by them for 1250 shares of The Chase Manhattan Bank capital stock and continue to retain said shares of the said Chase Manhattan Bank stock in like manner as if they had been owned by William B. Rochester at the time of his death.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of said County of Ulster to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, HONORABLE JOHN B. STERLEY, Surrogate of our said County of Ulster at said County the 16th day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-six.

Jaycees to Hold Road-e-o Sunday; Starts 10 A.M.

Ernest Rowe, project chairman of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce Teen Age Road-e-o, today announced that the 1956 Road-e-o will be held Sunday, May 6, at Municipal stadium. Starting time for the written portion of the test will be 10 a. m., but teenagers interested in participating may take the test throughout the day.

The Teen Age Road-e-o is a national Jaycee project which encourages safe driving on the local, state, and national levels. Financial sponsors of the Road-e-o are the Chrysler Corporation, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, and the American Trucking Association. Local financial sponsor is GI Joe's Express.

COMPOSED OF a written examination portion, and an actual skill driving contest, the Teen Age Road-e-o is an annual Jaycee project.

Trophies will be presented to the top three contestants in the competition, and plaques will be awarded to their sponsoring organizations. A trophy will be awarded to the top girl contentant, irrespective of her position in the overall standing.

Teen Age Road-e-o competition is open to any teenage boy or girl who will not have reached 20 years of age by August 9, last day of the national finals in Washington, D. C., has a driver's license or permit, has a clean record of no moving traffic violations in the past six months.

Committee heads assisting overall Chairman Rowe are James Cook, judging and scoring; Edward Carter, eligibility; screening, and certification; Harry Streeter, location, course and equipment and Charles McCarthy and Marvin Millens, publicity.

All teenagers interested in entering the contest should write the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Gov. Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

Needle Man

Ispheming, Mich. (AP) — Jabs from a hypodermic needle don't bring the usual yelp of pain if John Hill has put his fine hand to work on the needle first. Hill, a polio victim, makes a living from his wheelchair by sharpening used hypodermic needles so they'll be better than new. How much better? "Enough to add up to 30 per cent less operator effort, 60 per cent less pain and 100 per cent less plugging," says Hill. He gets used needles from hospitals and doctors and puts them through a painstaking resharpening process. When he's done the needle can be poked into a pad of shoe leather without a jar—or into a human without a squeak.

Political Education

Richmond, Va. (AP)—Electioneering on municipal property during working hours is forbidden by the city of Richmond. So William Chewning Jr., 10, was told to desist from distributing campaign cards for his father, a candidate for City Council, during class hours at Mary Munford School.

Rhee Opens Campaign

Seoul, May 3 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee climbed on the political stump today to make his first campaign and "whistle-stop" speeches since the Republic of Korea was founded in 1948. Rhee, 81, is seeking a third term in the May 15 election. He spoke at Nonsan, 100 miles south of Seoul, and at Taejon. Chochiwon and Suwon stations, along the railroad route back to the capital.

Favors GI Plan

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Rep. Edmondson (D-Okla.) said today he thinks a bill to extend the housing program for World War 2 GIs has a better chance of becoming law than a rival plan to make federal housing aid more easily available for all. Edmondson, chairman of a House veterans subcommitte on housing, disclosed he has prepared a bill to continue for six more years the giant Veterans Administration (VA) home loan guarantee program for World War 2 GIs. He indicated in an interview that he will introduce the measure unless the administration and the House Banking Committee soon show they favor a rival bill sponsored by Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.), chairman of the veterans committee.

Mail Orders Cease

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—The state's Tax Department says that as a result of a crackdown, mail-order purchases of untaxed cigarettes have virtually ceased. The crackdown began late in 1954 when the Tax Commission announced that persons who bought cigarettes by mail had to pay the state tax or face penalties ranging up to 50 per cent of the amount due. The department announced yesterday its drive had netted more than $100,000 in revenue since 1954, from about 10,000 persons who by-passed the state's 3-cent-a-pack tax in buying cigarettes by mail, mostly from Virginia.

No Fire, No Water

Las Animas, Colo. (AP)—This town of 3,223 went five hours without a fire. And it's a good thing, too. The city had no water. A welding crew repaired the city water tank, and opened a valve to turn the water into the tank. Heat from the welded portion of the tank caused pressure that kept the water out for five hours.

Million Dollar Fire Hits Detroit Area

Detroit, May 3 (AP)—A million dollar fire destroyed a six-story building in the downtown business district last night.

Three firemen were injured fighting the spectacular four-hour blaze.

The 80-year-old building housed the main store of the Fred Sanders Co., Detroit's largest confectionery chain, and a dress shop. Adjacent buildings suffered smoke and water damage.

About 100 persons were in a basement cafeteria when the fire was discovered. All were evacuated safely and without panic.

Police blocked off all traffic on the block today pending a check of the walls of the burned out building. Fire Chief Edward J. Blohm said, however, he did not think the walls would collapse.

The building is located on Woodward avenue, Detroit's main north-south thoroughfare.

Stresses Full Job

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Rep. Reuss (D-Wis.) said today the sea lamprey, which is wiping game fish out of the Great Lakes, could be destroyed. By spending about $750,000 a year for the next six or seven years the sea lamprey could be completely eliminated, Reuss said in testimony prepared for a House Merchant Marine Committee. He said that for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, Congress provided $350,000 for lamprey control work. Electric barriers are in operation on 71 of the 230 Great Lakes feeder streams in which lampreys breed, he said. He told the committee there is no use in appropriating money for only a partial job. The sea lamprey is an eel-like creature which attaches itself to a game fish and sucks its blood.

Would Cut Air Fares

New York, May 3 (AP)—Pan American World Airways today proposed new low-fare overseas flights that would cut $100 off a round-trip ticket between New York and Paris. The proposed economy rates would be 15 to 20 per cent less than present tourist fares and 40 to 50 per cent below first-class tickets. Pan American President Juan T. Trippe said the airline would operate the new service on the same standards of safety and dependability as its first-class flights. However, passengers would be seated closed together, free meals eliminated and intermediate fueling stops scheduled for maximum payload.

Report Shows 25 Die, 1,554 Injured In County Mishaps

Twenty-five persons died and 1,554 injuries were reported in 965 motor vehicle accidents in Ulster county in 1955, according to a report released today by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly.

Fatalities were six less than reported in 1954 but there were more than 163 more accidents and 222 more persons suffered injuries than in the preceding year. Accidents in 1955 totaled 965 compared with 802 in 1954; injuries reported were 1,554 compared with 1,332 in the previous year.

New York county again had the largest number of motor vehicle deaths—224—while Kings county again led in the number of injury accidents, 23,402, and the number of persons non-fatally injured, 36,378.

Statewide, there were 133,777 personal injury accidents in which 2,226 were killed and 205,531 injured, as against the 1954 totals of 120,643, 2,094 and 180,377.

Producers Vote May 15 On State Milk Order

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey today set May 15 for a producer vote on the proposed state milk marketing order for the Syracuse area.

Carey designated four polling places and outlined the voting qualifications.

By law, the commissioner must determine that 66⅔ per cent of the producers in the Syracuse area favor the order before it can become effective.

The polling places will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. They will be at the Skaneateles Central School, the Manlius Municipal Building, The Central Square Grange Hall and the Baldwinsville Grange Hall.

Carey defined eligible voters as those "who at any time since Jan. 1, 1954, have produced milk which has been distributed in the marketing area from a farm which has been approved by a board or boards of health having jurisdiction in any part of the marketing area."

New Hearing on Milk Marketing Set in June

Washington, May 3 (AP)—A new public hearing—to begin on or about June 18—will be held on proposals to provide "effective" regulation of the marketing of fluid milk in the entire New York-New Jersey metropolitan area.

The agriculture department announced yesterday it planned to schedule the hearing on the long-range New York-New Jersey program as soon as possible after a separate hearing, set for May 21, on proposals to amend the existing New York order to increase producer prices.

At the June meeting, the department said, proposals for one broad federal milk marketing order or separate orders for each state will be considered. Another proposal up for consideration will be one that would expand the present New York metropolitan order to include several urban areas in upstate New York.

Ike Gets First License

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower today received Colorado's No. 1 fishing license for 1956 and remarked smilingly: "I hope I get to use it." The license was presented by Gov. Edwin C. Johnson and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson. It was in Denver that Eisenhower suffered a heart attack last Sept. 24 and was hospitalized for seven weeks. He has vacationed in Colorado for the last four summers, but there has been speculation that his doctors might advise against a return to that altitude.

Winter Returns To Montana Area

(By The Associated Press)

It was a little on the wintry side in Montana and sections of the Dakotas and rainy in parts of the east and south today.

Snow fell in most of Montana yesterday and during the night the temperatures dropped below freezing. Falls at Lewiston measured 4 inches. The snow spread eastward into the Dakotas and became mixed with rain in some areas. Temperatures failed to climb above freezing in some northern Montana areas yesterday.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms extended over a belt from Louisiana northeastward through the Atlantic states into Maine. Most falls were light although Atlanta's downpour last night measured more than 1 inch. Hail stones reported as big as eggs pelted areas near Knoxville, Tenn., last night while the most violent thunderstorm activity was in west central Alabama.

Seamen Leave for Home

Venice, May 3 (AP)—Two U. S. merchant seamen who quit the freighter National Liberty when it was in port here last week left by train today for Hamburg en route home. Police identified them as Gerald Divyer, 32, of (28 Clinton street) Clark Mills, N. Y., and Chester Chesna, 39, of (16 Garrison street) Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The captain of the National Liberty reported the men missing just before the ship sailed from here for Korea.

Direct Acquittal Is Denied for Graham

Denver, May 3 (AP)—Seven witnesses were called today for the opening of John Gilbert Graham's defense against a state charge he killed his mother by blowing up an airliner with 44 aboard.

Immediately after the prosecution rested its case yesterday, Dist. Judge Joseph M. McDonald denied defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal and for dismissal of the charge the 24-year-old defendant killed his prosperous parent, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55.

Charles S. Vigil, one of Graham's three court-appointed lawyers, argued the Denver district court lacked jurisdiction because the plane crash last Nov. 1 near Longmont, Colo., occurred in Weld county north of Denver.

Vigil also contended Graham's statement to the FBI—which the prosecution calls a confession—"at no point states the defendant committed the crime of killing his mother."

Doctor Acquitted In Ithaca Court Of Kidnaping Son

Ithaca, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Dr. Frank P. Sainburg, charged with twice kidnaping his son from the boy's mother, was acquitted last night.

Two other defendants tried with Sainburg also were found innocent of charges against them in Tompkins County Court.

Sainburg, 38, of Big Spring, Tex., was accused of taking his son Philip, now 5, from the home of his former wife, Miss Doris Blanchard of Ithaca, on Jan. 19, 1954. Another count charged Sainburg with taking the boy on Nov. 14, 1955, from St. John's Nursery School here.

IN ADDITION to the two counts of kidnaping, the physician was acquitted of a charge of third-degree burglary.

George Varris, 38, of New York city, was accused of illegal entry and third-degree assault. Murray Morton, 32, of Hollywood, Fla., was charged with illegal entry. Varris and Morton, private detectives employed by Sainburg, were accused in connection with the 1954 incident.

About 50 persons in the courtroom greeted the Sainburg verdict with cheers and handclapping. Mrs. Connie Sainburg, the physician's present wife, wept.

Miss Blanchard, a resident of Ithaca, was not present. She has custody of the child.

Doe Kidnaps Calf

Money Creek, Minn. (AP)—Kermit Hanson, searching his pasture for a newborn calf which had failed to come to the farmyard with his mother, found the calf had been kidnaped—or adopted—by a doe. The deer refused to leave the calf, and drove off Hanson's dog. The farmer chased the deer away and took the calf to the barn for safe keeping.

Rotary Chicken Barbecue Aug. 11

The fourth annual chicken barbecue sponsored by the Kingston Rotary Club will be held Saturday, August 11 at the Beatty Farm Dairy on Hurley avenue.

Tentative plans are designed to accommodate 500 adults, who will be served at two settings. Approximately 275 Rotarians and guests were served at one setting in former years.

Members of the committee in charge of the barbecue include Harry J. Beatty, farm operator, Clement I. Angstrom, director of New York State Regional Poultry Laboratory, and William H. Palmer, Ulster County Farm Bureau agent.

Silo Poison

Minneapolis, Minn. (AP)—University of Minnesota researchers are conducting experiments on the "silo gas" which killed three Minnesota farmers in 1955. The gas was identified as nitrogen oxide. Farmers were warned against going inside silos during filling or for at least a week or 10 days after.

National Hearing Week

Free hearing tests will be given residents of Kingston area during National Hearing Week, May 6-12, it was announced by Gerald R. Westcott of 7 Main street, local distributor of Radioear hearing aids. President Eisenhower has endorsed National Hearing Week, the purpose of which is to acquaint the public with hearing problems and help the estimated 15-million persons in the U. S. who suffer some degree of hearing impairment.

Jury Takes 48 Hours To Decide Conviction

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 3 (AP)—Almost 48 hours after it received the case, a district court jury last night convicted James V. Alexander, 48, of second degree murder in the death of his second wife, Barbara, 24.

The body was dug from the basement floor of Alexander's home nearly two and a half years after she disappeared.

The husky former Casper, Wyo., school teacher faces a penalty of 20 years to life in the state penitentiary at Rawlins.

Alexander appeared stunned and solemn as Dist. Judge Sam Thompson read the verdict at 10:02 p. m. (MST) to conclude a 15-day trial.

Natrona County Prosecutor Raymond Whitaker had asked the death penalty in closing arguments Monday, shortly before the jury of seven men and five women was given the case at 10:14 p. m. Alexander was charged with first degree murder.

Why We Say--

HOSPITAL

A hospital is not usually considered a place of rest and entertainment today, but that is how the word originated. It is derived from the Latin "hospitalus". In 1048 a group of monks founded a resting place (or hospital) for pilgrims coming to the Holy Land. So many of the travelers were sick that the word took on its present meaning.

Mark Twain had a protegee who wrote him one day that she was not feeling well; so he wrote her back, advising her to buy a certain magnetic health belt. After she had worn the belt for a few days the girl wrote the humorist:

"I bought one of those belts, but it did not help me a bit."

By wire back came the answer:

"It helped me. I own stock in the company.

Body Is Sought

Panama City, Fla., May 3 (AP)—Murky bayou waters were searched today for the brother of a boy whose death brought about a murder charge against their host on an outboard motor boat ride. The missing lad is 7-year-old David Wilson, son of C. E. Wilson, an employe at the Tyndall Air Force Base. The body of David's only brother, 4-year-old Douglas, was recovered from Cook's Bayou yesterday and Dallas Withers, 33, father of six children, was charged with his murder. Sheriff M. J. Daffin said Withers related this account in a signed statement: The Wilson brothers went voluntarily for a ride in Withers' 12-foot boat. On a sharp turn, David fell overboard and Withers became panicky. Fearful that the other child would tell on him, he spun the boat sharply again and Douglas also toppled into the water.

Detroit Widow Is Mother of Year

Detroit, May 3 (AP)—A Detroit widow whose kind and busy hands have bought love and a happy home to 45 children is the American Mother of 1956.

She is Jane Maxwell Pritchard, who at 67 still spends nearly all her waking hours making a home for 17 lively girls who live in her rambling brick house on Detroit's east side. All are children from broken homes, placed under her care by the Juvenile Court.

IN YEARS gone by Mrs. Pritchard has been a foster parent to 17 other youngsters and reared 11 more, only one of them her own. All call her mother.

Her oldest "child" is an adopted daughter, now 43. The youngest of her formally adopted brood is a pair of 14-year-old twins. Her own son, Dale, is 38.

Almost from the time of her marriage to machinist Benjamin Pritchard 49 years ago, her home has reverbrated with the shouts and laughter of children. Some stayed until they were married and held their weddings in her home. Others even took her name.

BUSY AS ALWAYS, Mrs. Pritchard was sorting laundry when word came yesterday that a jury of the American Mothers Committee, meeting in New York, had chosen her as the outstanding mother of the year.

"I'm moved to tears," she said with a soft smile, then added quickly, "but I never want anyone to see my tears."

"I'VE HAD AN abundant life," she said. "I need no reward. When I see my married girls and their families come home, I know that all the work has been worthwhile."

Mrs. Pritchard will fly to New York next Monday to be guest of honor at the annual Mothers Conference.

"It will be my first Mother's Day away from my family," she said. "I hope I am worthy."

Her children and friends, and the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs, which nominated her for the Mother of the Year award, had no doubt she was worthy of the honor.

Mrs. Pritchard is a native of Youngstown, Ohio.

Nation's Oldest Rail Engineer Retires at 83

Centralia, Ill., May 3 (AP)—Robert T. McMillan, the nation's oldest railroad engineer, who spent 66 of his 83 years with the Illinois Central Railroad, retired yesterday.

McMillan, who became an engineer in 1899, had guided everything from wood-burning locomotives to deisel electrics over more than three million miles of rails.

HIS LAST RUN was on Feb. 8 in the cab of the City of New Orleans from Centralia to Cairo, Ill., a distance of 110 miles. He had been off the job since after an attack of pneumonia. He started his career with the IC as a machinist apprentice in Centralia and became a fireman in 1894. Five years later he was promoted to engineer.

McMillan is one of three living members of the Casey Jones Fellowship, founded in 1950 on the 50th anniversary of the famed engineer's death. The others are Casey's widow and his fireman, Sim Webb.

AT ILLINOIS central headquarters in Chicago, a spokesman commenting on McMillan's age at retirement, said some employes, including company officers, are compelled to retire at age 70 but retirement of craft workers is governed by their unions.

Officials of the railroad retirement board declined comment other than that employment practices are negotiated between indivual railroad companies and unions.

Hunt Acquitted

New York, May 3 (AP)—John T. Hunt, 31, former port agent of the National Maritime Union (NMU), has been acquitted on charges of conspiracy and bribery. Hunt, who was accused of taking fees of from $150 to $$300 from merchant seamen in return for union books permitting them to work on ships, won dismissal of the charges yesterday in the Court of Special Sessions. The three-judge court ruled unanimously there was insufficient evidence.

Mental Health Month Poses Vital Question on Strength

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Facts you should know in connection with the May campaign of the National Association for Mental Health:

There are more people hospitalized for mental illness today than for all other diseases combined.

Some two and a half million men, women and children were treated for some form of mental disorder within the past year.

Mental disorder is an important element in 50 per cent to 70 per cent of all medical cases treated by physicians.

Of all people who seek hospital treatment for physical ailments, six million are suffering from serious mental and emotional illnesses which account for their physical ailments.

Twenty years ago the chance of being hospitalized for a severe mental illness was one in 20; today it is nearly one in 10.

More working years of life are lost to mental diseases today than to any other group of illnesses which disable workers.

One billion dollars a year is the U. S. taxpayers' bill for care of mental patients.

The majority of our mental patients are given no more than custody in our overcrowded, understaffed, underequipped institutions.

Mental health treatment by clinics is available to relatively few. Of the 9,500 psychiatrists in the U. S., more than 3,000 are concentrated in New York and California.

"Homes are being broken up," warns the National Association for Mental Health, "children are becoming criminal, millions of lives are being ruined because of the unsufficiency of clinics, private psychiatrists and guidance service to people with lesser mental disorders."

Its statements may encourage us to support its 1956 drive for funds. They may also stimulate the question: "Why is mental illness so impressivey on the increase in this country that boasts the highest standard of material living in the world? What is it we Americans are so scared of?

The true answer could well be the most important one that will ever be required of us.

"The painful insecurity on all sides," says psychoanalyst Rollo May, "is what gives us new incentive to ask is there perhaps some important source of strength we have overlooked?"

Reversed Wreck

Hopkinsville, Ky. (AP)—A car driven by John Browder, 42, wrecked a bridge instead of vice versa. The auto hit the side of a span and the railing along one side fell into a creek. Browder wasn't hurt and the car wasn't damaged—except for a blowout.

Good Roads Assn. Welcomes News On Highway Plan

Albany, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—Gov. Harriman's action in authorizing an expanded state highway program was hailed today as "coming just in the nick of time" by John Wickman, president of the New York Good Roads Association.

"As every motorist can testify," Wickham said, "our roads are disintegrating. With substantially greater traffic before us throughout the summer months, immediate action was necessary, and this action has been taken."

The governor yesterday unveiled plans for a 126-million-dollar expansion of the state's highway construction program, starting next month. Harriman told a news conference the program would make use of 35 million dollars in surplus state funds, 25 million in regular federal aid and 60 million anticipated in stepped-up federal assistance.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

An original Ulster Gazette, dated Saturday, March 15, 1817 was loaned to me: It was printed and published by S. S. and A. Freer in Kingston on good rag paper. Price was two dollars per year. It is in tabloid form, about 13 inches wide by 20 inches long, on each of the four pages. Perhaps Sam Freer made his own paper, for advertisement on bottom reads: "Cash paid for clean cotton and linen rags at this office." I do not know just when window glass came into existence in Kingston, but there is an advertisement reading "Window Glass, 6 by 8, 7 by 9, 8 by 10, 12 by 16, 13 by 16, and 14 by 18, for sale by N. Couch. Kingston, June 25, 1816." At the end of each advertisement there is a date, no doubt when advertisement was first run.

Another advertisement of N. Couch reads: "Garden Seeds, a complete assortment of Garden Seeds for sale." Back in 1817, "Henry Columbus was advertising that he "still continues to follow the hair dressing and shaving business at his old stand in the village of Kingston, where all orders in his line will be punctually attended to. He returns his thanks to his customers for the patronage they have heretofore bestowed upon him. He will attend his shop from 6 to 10 a. m. and from 12 to 4 p. m. On Saturday he will be in his shop at all hours."

The news section was inside. One item reading. "Election News. The Democratic Ulster County meeting on Tuesday last nominated Levi Jansen, William Doll, and David Staples for members of assembly. The meeting also concurred in the nomination of DeWitt Clinton for governor. From the Mediterranean: The U. States frigate, Java, Commodore Perry, arrived at Newport on the third instant, bringing a new treaty concluded with the Dey of Algiers, upon Commodore Chauncey's own terms."

Some of the printing is very small and some hard to read. They had their own laws as to where to capitalize words, so I am copying them as they appeared in print back in 1817. Edward and Wm. G. Elting had the following advertisement: "Offer for sale, at their store, east end of the village of Kingston. An assortment of dry goods, groceries, ironmongery, crockery, earthen and stoneware; Also—A few bls. Herring; Sole-Leather, alt, Swedes Iron, English and Crowley Steel Nails, from 4d. to 20 d. Cotton Yarn, Wheat and Rye Flour. The highest price paid for Grain, Lumber, etc., Kingston, January 25, 1817." As you will notice they used the barter system when possible. Also, they collected their back due bills in the following manner, which appeared at the end of their advertisement: "All those indebted to Edward Elting, and Edward and Wm. G. Elting, are requested to call and settle their accounts immediately."

Those were the days before street numbers, in fact before the naming of streets so it seems according to the following advertisement: "J. H. & J. W. Baldwin, respectfully inform the public, that they still carry on their business in the house of Capt. Burr, opposite E. Robert's, and next door east from H. Tucker's Hotel; where can be had on the lowest terms, one and two horse fancy and common Waggons, Fancy, Windsor, Common, Easy, Sewing and Table chairs. Also Field & Common Bedsteds, Hand carts and wheelbarrows."

Finds Her Breath

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—Detective Ned Brennen wrote a laconic report on a visit he made to the home of a woman who made a breathless call to police headquarters: "Woman had difficulty catching 6-year-old daughter to take corrective measures. However, before officer's arrival woman had regained breath and taken care of matter."

Reds Shell Quemoy

Taipei, Formosa, May 3 (AP)—Chinese Communist forces in Amoy fired 42 shells in 20 minutes today at the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy. Announcing the shelling, the National defense minister made no mention of casualties.

Owego Judge Is New Grand Master Of State Masons

JUDGE NATHAN TURK

Newly-elected grand master of the 307,000 state masons is Judge Nathan Turk of Owego, former county judge and surrogate of Tioga county.

Judge Turk and five other top officials were elected at the concluding session of the 175th annual communication of Grand Lodge Wednesday.

MORE THAN 2,000 attended the sessions which started May 1. Also elected were:

H. Lloyd Jones of Bronxville, chairman of the Board of Phoenix of London group of insurance companies, was elected deputy grand master. Judge Carl W. Peterson of Ilion, Justice of the Supreme Court, Fifth Judicial District, was elected senior grand warden and Otto C. Brown of Newburgh, junior grand warden. Judge Edward J. Smith of Glendale, former Municipal Court Justice and formerly Chief Commissioner of the Grand Lodge Commission of Appeals, was elected grand treasurer and Edward R. Carman, Jamaica attorney, was elected grand secretary.

Following the election, William B. Wilkinson, chief of the Cayuga Rock Salt Company in Ithaca, was appointed grand marshal and Fred Steinhilber, executive of Geyer Publications in New York, was appointed deputy grand marshal by Judge Turk. All were installed at ceremonies yesterday afternoon and will serve for one year.

Wallkill, May 3—Wallkill Central School will hold its annual Career Day Thursday, May 17, for grades 7-12 under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Igou, guidance counselor of Wallkill Central School.

Designed to acquaint students with the different occupational fields which they may wish to enter, the day will begin with a general assembly at 8:30 a. m.

Groups will be addressed after that by various experts in the different fields.

The program will culminate with a student summary and evaluation period at 2:30 p. m. Parents are welcome to attend.

The faculty committee assisting Mrs. Igou includes Mrs. Virginia Abrahamsen, Mrs. Nuvart Bedrossian, Mrs. Ilona Herder, Miss Helen Lyons, Miss Marie McCaffrey, Mrs. Genevieve Wingate, Kenneth Hasbrouck, Bernard Law, Clare Ostrander, and Adolph Santorine.

Bagpipes Without Scotch

Rock Springs, Wyo. (AP)—When Murray Noble, fresh from Edinburgh, Scotland, founded a bagpipe-and-drum corps here back in 1891, he didn't dream it would have so curious a result. The band now is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. But it has long since lost much of its Scot predominance. Four of the 11 members are named Scarletti, Weiss, Menghini and Facinelli.

Engaged to Wed

LILLIAN BULEY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buley of Port Ewen, formerly of Kingston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillian Buley, to Paul Maggiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Maggiore, Sr., of RFD 4, Box 30, Kingston.

A June wedding is planned.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

KISSING IN PUBLIC

A reader asks: "Isn't it wrong to show any display of affection in public—especially on a crowded subway train? The other morning while going to work, an acquaintance of mine and her husband happened to be on the same train. He got off before she did. When he reached his station, he turned and kissed his wife before leaving the train. Wasn't this in bad taste?"

Answer: According to strict rule, yes; but at the same time, it would depend very much upon how quickly and inconspicuously he did this. A clinging embrace would be in very bad taste. A quick brush of his lips against her cheek could have been all right.

Bride's Family Alone Give Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon. Her fiance has a much larger guest list than we have and feels that he must invite them all. Our money is limited and we cannot afford a very large wedding. Would it be proper to ask the bridegroom's family to pay for any extra guests they wish to invite? I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: I am sorry, but it would be a really shocking mistake to ask the bridegroom's family to pay anything toward the wedding collation. On the other hand, this last need be nothing more than a fruit punch and wedding cake.

A Business Introduction

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I own and operate a store. When salesmen or other businessmen come into the store whom I do not know my husband usually introduces them to me. I would like to know if I should offer my hand on this occasion?

Answer: Not necessarily, unless they are well known customers. But in any case, it would be courteous on your part to do so.

JCC Nursery School Is Now Enrolling Youngsters for Fall

The nursery school at the Jewish Community Center of Kingston is enrolling children for the fall semester. Beginning its second year of successful operation, the school will offer both a morning and an afternoon class for the children three to five years of age.

The school is located at 265 Wall street and offers the children an intensive learning opportunity in a small group setting. Children are supervised by a qualified teacher and mothers assist the teacher on an assigned basis. An outdoor play yard is used for play and large muscle development.

The Center Nursery School is open to all children of the community under the sponsorship of the Jewish Community Center and the nursery school committee chaired by Mrs. Al Green and Mrs. Aaron Adin. Parents are urged to contact either of the chairmen or the Center office for enrollment information. Choice of morning or afternoon sessions will be offered to the youngsters on the basis of age and development. Vacancies for the coming school year will be filled on the condition of availability of space.

For the September term, the morning class will be for three and four year old boys and girls and the afternoon session for four and five year olds. Games, crafts, storytelling, music appreciation, motor development group living and creative expression are some of the features of the curriculum.

Hadassah Members To Attend Sixth Annual Conference

Mrs. Kayla Kapen, local conference chairman of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, announces the completion of plans for the sixth annual Spring Conference of the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah, to be held from May 6-8, at Newburgh.

The opening banquet, Sunday at 6:30 p. m., at the Hotel Newburgh's Green Room, promises to be an interesting and entertaining affair. Guest speaker for this function is Dr. Saul K. Padover, Dean of the New School for Social Research, who is a widely recognized authority on Thomas Jefferson and democracy. Apart from his work in education, historical research, world travel, lecturing and writing, he was from 1938 to 1943, assistant to Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, and in 1953 was sent by the State Department on a tour of Southeast Asia, where he lectured before universities and civic groups in India, Burma, Malaya, Indochina, and Trinidad. In 1950 he was appointed Dean of the School of Politics at the New School. He has taken a year's leave of absence to do research on the United Nations at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Workshops on Monday and Tuesday will take place at the Plum Point Hotel, Newburgh. Delegates and guests will witness the election and installation of new officers at the closing luncheon, Tuesday, May 8.

All reservations, for all or any part of the conference, must be made with the local conference chairman, Mrs. K. Kapen.

Proper-McTigue Nuptials Are Held

Roxbury, April 29—The Gould Memorial Reformed Church of Roxbury was the scene of the wedding on April 29, at 4 p. m. of Miss Ruth Kay Proper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Proper of Downsville, and Lt. William Howard McTigue, Jr., of Fort Belvoir, Va., son of William Howard McTtgue, Sr. of Holyoke, Mass. and the late Mrs. McTigue of Woodstock.

Palms, candelabra, and baskets of white snapdragons and yellow gladioli, formed a floral background for the single-ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Herman E. Luben, pastor of the church.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Richard Lutz of Roxbury, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love" and following the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Charles W. Aikman, organist, accompanied the songs, and played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white imported silk, made princess style with chapel train. The bateau neckline and hipline were embroidered Alencon lace. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of Alencon lace, which was embroidered with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried bouquets of stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her two 10-year-old cousins, Miss Marian Eoxanne Lutz of Roxbury and Miss Claudia Marie Lutz of Downsville. They were dressed alike in short dresses of white organdy, embroidered with yellow and white daisies, with yellow satin sashes and trimmed with val lace. They carried baskets of yellow and white daisies, snapdragons and baby ivy. The flower girl, Anne Margaret Champlin of Downsville, was dressed identically as the honor attendants.

Frank DuBois of Boston, Mass., was best man and ushers were Robert Wilkes of Boston, Mass. and Valldemar Skov of Boston, Mass., and Charles Proper, Downsville, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Proper, mother of the bride, wore a street length dinner gown of mauve lace with navy accessories. Her corsage was of mauve orchids.

Following the wedding a reception for 125 guests was held at the church parlors which were decorated in a yellow and white floral scheme with snapdragons and gladioli. Mrs. Claude Lutz of Prattsville, and Mrs. Howard P. Gibbs poured. Mrs. Willis L. Lutz cut the wedding cake.

After the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. For traveling, the bride wore an empire coat and sheath dress of navy with yellow accessories, and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Downsville Central School and of the Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences of Binghamton, and has been secretary of the Downsville Central School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Cambridge, Mass. and at present is a lieutenant in the army at Fort Belvoir, Va. They will make their future home at Arlington, Va.

Mayor Frederick Stang Proclaims May 6-12 As National Hospital Week; Urges All Citizens to Join in Local Observance

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today proclaimed May 6-12 as Kingston Hospital Week. Communities throughout the United States are joining in the observance of National Hospital Week during this period.

In his proclamation the mayor said, "Your Hospital...For You and Your Community" is the theme of National Hospital Week which this year emphasizes hospitals' many services to their communities. The week commemorates the humanitarium service of hospitals throughout the world and celebrates the birthday of the famous nurse Florence Nightingale on May 12.

Mayor Stang said, "It is fitting that we take the opportunity presented by this observance to become better acquainted with our hospitals."

In his proclamation, the mayor further said that our hospitals have dedicated themselves to providing important care and have demonstrated their continued interest in community welfare. The continued high standard of hospital care is possible only through the community's understanding, appreciation and support of its hospitals.

Mayor Stang urges all citizens to join with him and people throughout the United States in observing National Hospital Week.

Benedictinet Group Enlarges Voluntary Services in Hospital

Several members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Benedictine Hospital met at the hospital recently to be instructed in their new duties of volunteer for the hospital by Sister M. Callista, OSB, director of Nursing Service.

Sister Callista described the floor plan of the hospital and outlined duties which will include directing visitors, sorting and delivering mail to the patients, arranging flowers and notifying the local clergy of the presence of parishioners in the hospital.

Volunteer work has been organized by Mrs. Stephen McGrath and Mrs. John Burych, members of the auxiliary.

The auxiliary solicits the aid of any ladies who are interested in their project and welcome them to join.

Permits Estimate April Building Here Is $167,949

April's estimated building cost in the city, based on 41 permits issued by S. Burrell Schwarzwaelder, superintendent of buildings was $167,949.

This was $37,293 more than the total in March when 23 permits were issued.

Eight permits issued last month were for new buildings at an estimated total cost of $88,900, five permits were issued for alterations at $26,186, and 10 for additions at $36,160.

Two permits were issued for repairs at $4,000, five for oil burners at $3,325, four for garages at $3,340, and four for tanks at $3,050. One permit was issued for gas heat at $988, and two demolition permits were issued.

Penalties Ruled Out

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals held today that the National Labor Relations Board cannot penalize strikers who picket peacefully, for the misconduct of others. The unanimous decision written by Judge David L. Bazelon, struck down an NLRB ruling that peaceable pickets share responsibility if they do not repudiate violence by others. The court quoted and agreed with an earlier finding by the board itself to the effect its authority to deny reinstatement extends only to strikers "who authorized or participated in the wrongful conduct and their aiders and abettors."

To Question Chotiner

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Senators searching for evidence of graft in army contracts called for testimony today from Murray Chotiner, well-known California Republican, about his services for a previous witness. The Senate Investigations Subcommittee has said it wants to question Chotiner about fees he has acknowledged receiving from makers of army uniforms who were in trouble with the government in 1953 and 1954. Chotiner was Vice President Nixon's campaign manager in 1952. He has also worked in past campaigns of Sen. Konwland (R-Calif.) and others.

Local Elementary School Pupils Sponsor Hobby Show; 125 Students Participate

Barbara Navy, Robert Herzog, David O'Neil, Raymond Gilkey and Diane Berinato, students of the George Washington School, were announced first prize winners in their respective divisions upon the opening day of the annual hobby show held May 2-3, in the George Washington School gymnasium. More than 125 children exhibited in the show.

Entries were divided into five areas to facilitate judging. These included: division one, collections, primary grades; division two, handicrafts, primary grades; division three, collections, intermediate grades; division four, handicrafts, intermediate grades; division five, pets, all grades.

Judges for the occasion were: Mrs. Ronald Herrick, Mayor Frederick H. Stang and William Reardon, principal of Schools No. 6 and 8.

Other winners announced were: division one, Leland Forst, Leslie Peck and Carol Shann; division two, Susan London and Kevin MacCollum; division three, Susan Mills, Carol Oppenheimer and Judith Warshaw; division four, John Whalen, Robert Lacey and Arthur Rifenbary; division five, Sharon Holmquist and Peggy Whaley.

The annual hobby show, for the benefit of the school student fund, is planned, sponsored and carried out by the pupils of the sixth grade under the direction of Mrs. Maude Bunting. To cover the expenses of the show the sixth grade girls, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Donnelly, of the homemaking department, baked cookies and made fudge for sale during hobby show hours. Sixth grade boys contributed by making punch.

An added feature of this year's show was the handcraft display and sale by the teen-age girls' special class under the guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Buehring. Projects included shoe button craft, felt craft, shell craft, basketry, stuffed toys, crocheted rugs, aprons and embroidered articles.

During the year, crafts center around the core activities of the group. Natural student interest in craft work makes it an important means by which to teach the fine art of sewing and many general areas that have a worthwhile carry-over value in life. In preparing, setting up, and conducting the sale, the girls find numerous practical learning experiences.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to defray the expense of bus transportation to New York city on Many 15 for the group's annual spring trip.

Driver Fined $15

Pomeroy Lee, Jr., 44, of Byrdcliffe road, Woodstock, was arrested by Trooper W. L. Shurter Wednesday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident on April 30. It was charged Lee was driving a 1953 car west on the lower Byrdcliffe road about 1 a. m. on April 30, when the car struck a bridge damaging it. It is alleged a tire blew on the car causing the car to strike the bridge. Lee allegedly did not report the accident. On the charge of leaving the scene of an accident he entered a plea of guilty before Justice George Braendly and a fine of $15 was imposed.

Newspapers Seek To Force Judge To Admit Force

Sacramento, Calif., May 3 (AP)—Legal moves by four newspapers to force a Santa Rosa judge to open a murder trial to the press comes up today before the Third District Court of Appeal.

A writ to prohibit Sonoma county Superior Judge Donald Geary from holding a closed trial was sought by the San Francisco Examiner yesterday. But presiding Justice B. F. Van Dyke, the lone judge present, said at least two of the court's three jurists would have to rule on the issue.

Gordon Pates, managing editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, said attorneys would file a similar petition for his papers, the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat and the Sacramento Bee.

EXAMINER attorneys brought their action to Van Dyke shortly after Judge Geary excluded seven reporters from the trial of Mrs. Charlotte Black, 63, accused of killing her husband last February.

The judge barred the press after Mrs. Black waived her constitutional right to a public trial Tuesday.

"As far as I am concerned, the failure of Dist. Atty. (Joseph) Maddux to object in any way waived any objection on the part of the people," Judge Geary declared.

Georgia Girl to Wed IBM Employe in July

CHERRELL WILLIAMS

Mrs. Walter Russell Williams of Perry, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Cherrell Jean, to Louis Allen Rose of Olive Bridge.

Miss Williams is a graduate of Perry High School and of Georgia Teachers College. She was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and is employed by the Houston County Board of Education in the C. B. Watson School in Warner Robins, Ga.

Her fiance was graduated from the Kingston, New York, High School and the United States Air Force Finance School. He served four years with the Air Force and is now employed by IBM in Kingston.

The wedding will take place the latter part of July in the Perry Methodist Church.

17 Entered in Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—Eighteen well conditioned 3-year-olds, headed by the stretch running Needles from Florida, were entered today for the 82nd running of the $120,000 added Kentucky Derby Saturday but the field was quickly reduced to 17 when one of the candidates injured himself. There were no surprises as the trainers or their representatives paid the $250 entry fee for the richest of all Derbies. It'll cost another $1,250 to be in the post parade at 4:30 p. m. (EST) Saturday. The surprise came when a few minutes after Reaping Right was entered it was announced that T. A. Grissoms' Louisiana Derby winner injured a leg in a workout and would be withdrawn. Nevertheless, it still cost the Detroit owner $250, according to Lincoln Plaut, a Downs' steward. Reaping Right's name was the second in the entry box, following that of stablemate Invalidate, one of the few speed horses in the large field.

Car Injuries Fatal

New Orleans, May 3 (AP)—A 43-year-old automobile salesman, whom officers said was deliberately run down in a car driven by his former girl friend, died today. Police identified the man as Mack Jernigan. They said Beatrice Adams, 33, deliberately ran into Jernigan late yesterday and then rolled over him with the car "two or three times." She was charged with attempted murder last night, but officers said the charges probably would be changed later today.

74 New Polio Cases

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Seventy-four new cases of polio were reported last week, barely more than half the 146 in the corresponding 1955 week. A public health spokesman said, however, that "it is too early" to tell what will happen later. He pointed out that there were 74 cases in the corresponding week in 1952 but high incidence in July, August and September that year gave 1952 the record high of some 57,000 cases.

Onteora Central Trounces New Paltz in UCAL Track Meet

Glass Registers Double In Mile and Broad Jump

Onteora Central's powerful track squad captured ten of 13 events, including a double by Glenn Glass in the mile and broad jump, to crush New Paltz, 80 2/3 to 30 1/3, in a UCAL track meet at New Paltz yesterday.

Coach Bernie Stahl's Indians dropped only the 180-yard hurdles, high jump and javelin, and swept the 100-yard sprint, 880 and discus.

GLASS WAS clocked in a 5:10 mile and copped the broad jump with a leap of 16 feet, 7 inches.

Bob Shultis copped the 220 in 24.8 seconds and Howard Wendlers ran the 880 in 2.22. Joe La Rocca's 36 foot 9 inch heave took the shot put for Onteora and Kurt Hahn won the pole vault at eight feet.

Ben Robinson ran the 100 in 11 seconds flat and Bob Hall won the 440 in 59 seconds. Konrad King's 105-foot toss copped the discus. The Onteora relay squad of Bob Shultis, Bill Reynolds, Ted Jensen and Ben Robinson captured the 880 relay in 1 minute, 45 seconds.

BOB HEIDGERD of New Paltz matched Glass' double by taking the 180 yard low hurdles in 24.5 seconds and the javelin with a toss of 140 feet. Stock scored the other Hugenot triumph in the high jump at 5 feet 2 inches.

Brown Wallops Smith at Houston

Houston, Tex., May 3 (AP)—Joe Brown did not get the knockout he had predicted but he believes his unanimous decision over lightweight Wallac (Bud) Smith has earned him a rematch for the title.

Brown, 29-year-old Negro from New Orleans, used a vicious right, a strong left and a sharp defense last night in scoring a popular decision over the champion in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Sam Houston Coliseum.

Brown was not damaged. Smith, losing his third straight overweight fight, received a cut lip and a swollen left eye. Smith was 8½ pounds over the 135-pound lightweight limit. Brown weighed 139.

The 27-year-old Smith broke into tears of disgust after reaching his dressing room.

"I couldn't do nothing right," he said.

Marlboro Central Cops Triangular Track Meet

Kroh Thinclads Beat Highland And Cornwall

A pelting rain crimped distances and times in yesterday's triangular track meet at Cornwall but Marlboro's web-footed athletes made a shambles of the event, capturing seven of 10 events and finishing first with 53 points. Highland was second with 29½ and Cornwall third with 27½.

The meet was scored on a basis of five points for first place, three for second, two for third and one for fourth. Relay scoring was five for first, three for second and one for third.

Despite soggy field conditions, Marlboro racked up victories in the broad jump, shot put, high jump and discus.

Marlboro, which has split in two meets, faces Saugerties in a UCAL outing next Wednesday.

The summaries:

Carmen Basilio Second On Amateur Ring Card

Former world's welterweight champion, Carmen Basilio, will second his younger brother, Joey, a 118-pound amateur, on tonight's Glasco Athletic Club boxing card at the municipal auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

The remainder of the card brings together Syracuse University's boxing stars—Frank Guelli, Gus Fiacco and Ted Flark—against New York and Olympic Golden Glovers.

There will be eight bouts in all, three fives and five three-rounders.

Redleg Sluggers Sizzle

Kluszewski-on Bench Formula Cinncy Smash

By RIP WATSON
(The Associated Press)

Benching the team's star slugger may not sound like good managerial strategy, but it's worked wonders for Birdie Tebbets of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Ever since Big Ted Kluszewski was given a seat on the bench last Friday for being overweight, the Redlegs have been on a diet of home runs and victories, with five roundtrippers coming last night as they blitzed Brooklyn's faltering Dodgers 10-6 for their sixth straight. This took Cincy, from a 1-5 mark in the basement to a 7-5 mark, only one-half game out of first place in the National League.

Wally Post, the major league leader with 8; George Crowe, Big Klu's "temporary" replacement; Ray Jablonski and Gus Bell were the home run stars last night as the Redlegs ran their record to 17 homers in their last six games. During the spurt, Post has hit 6 homers, Crowe and Rookie Frank Robinson 3 each, Bell and Ed Bailey 2 each and Jablonski 1.

ELSEWHERE the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs in 17 innings, on Daryl Spencer's long fly, 6-5, and the St. Louis Cardinals went to the top of the National League by beating Pittsburgh 10-9.

In the American League, Detroit's Frank Lary knocked the New York Yankees out of first place and blanked the New Yorkers until Mickey Mantle's homer in the ninth inning, coasting to an 8-1 victory behind a 15-hit attack.

Boston's Tom Brewer shut out Kansas City with three hits for a 2-0 victory.

Duke Snider, Roy Campanella and Sandy Amoros all homered in the eighth inning, but Cincinnati was breezing on a 9-2 lead by that time.

JOE BLACK, Brooklyn's 1952 ace, was the winning pitcher against his old mates, relieving Brooks Lawrence in the second inning. He had to depart himself in the eighth, Hershel Freeman coming in to protect the victory.

Freshman manager Bill Rigney of the Giants sent 25 men into action against Chicago. The old mark of 24 players was set by Pittsburgh against Boston in 1940 and tied by Brooklyn (managed by Leo Durocher) against New York April 21, 1948.

The Cubs used 23 and the combined total of 48 also was a major league record.

SPENCER WAS the big man for the Giants as he tripled and scored one run, blasted a two-run homer and sent home the winner with his sacrifice fly. Rookie Joe Margoneri, the seventh of eight New York pitchers (ties league record), gained his first major league victory.

Stan Musial bagged a grand slam home run for the Cards, but it was a squeeze bunt by light-hitting Alex Grammas that brought home Rip Repulski with the winning run in the 10th inning, ending a game that saw 41 players used.

Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Bill Tuttle each had three hits as the Tigers came up with their best batting day of the season against three Yankee pitchers. Kaline had two singles during the six-run third inning which sent starter Johnny Kucks to a shower.

Twinbills Pile Up in Eastern

(By The Associated Press)

This year's wet, cold spring at least is assuring Eastern League fans plenty of doubleheaders later in the season.

All four of yesterday's scheduled games were rained out.

With the season a little over a week old, five games involving the Albany Senators have been called off.

The weather has spoiled four contests for the Johnstown Johnnies, three for the Schenectady Blue Jays, Williamsport Grays, Binghamton Triplets and Allentown Red Birds, two for the Reading Indians and one for the Syracuse Chiefs.

Yesterday's Johnstown at Reading game will be played as part of a doubleheader, tonight.

Claim Louis Sought $140Gs For Title Loss

New York, May 3 (AP)—A memorandum alleging that Joe Louis had a terrific fear of being beaten" and demanded an extra $100,000 "under-the-table" to make a title defense in 1949 has been introduced in evidence in the government's monopoly suit against the International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden.

The tax-free sum was to be in addition to the heavyweight champion's usual 40 per cent of the net receipts of a title fight.

This was disclosed in Federal Court yesterday when the government procured an inter-office memo from Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, then president of the Garden, to Ned Irish, Garden executive vice president.

THE DOCUMENT was introduced during the government's cross-examination of Truman Gibson, Louis' lawyer at the time and presently secretary of the International Boxing Club.

Louis never fought for the title in 1949. He retired March 1.

The Brown Bomber, who has been touring as a wrestler, could not be reached for comment.

THE GOVERNMENT has charged the IBC, the Garden, and James D. Norris and Arthur Writz, IBC officcers, with violating anti-trust laws in promoting championship fights in this country between 1949 and 1953. The case is being tried without jury before Judge Slyvester J. Ryan.

Kilpatrick's memo related to a discussion between the general and Sol Strauss, lawyer for the late Mike Jacobs, regarding the boxing situation. The memo dealt with a meeting in Miami, Fla. at Jacobs' home in the latter part of 1948 or early 1949 and attended by Jacobs, then the ailing head of the 20th Century Sporting Club, Louis, Marshall Miles (Louis' manager), and Gibson.

Archery Shoot Slated at IBM

The Poughkeepsie IBM Arrowhead Archery Club will hold a 1956 target invitation shoot Saturday at the new 28-target field course located one-half mile south of the Poughkeepsie plant on Route 9.

Registration begins at 9 a. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Cardinal Pitcher Tosses No-Hitter

The Cardinals mauled the Warriors 14-0 in a baseball game at Forsyth Park as Johnny Sampson tossed a no-hitter and struck out 14.

Paul Krusher and Millard paced the attack off losing pitcher Douglas, who fanned nine. Krusher went 3-for-5 and Millard 3-4.

Corning Leads Pony Loop in Rainy Schedule

(By The Associated Press)

The Pony Baseball League today needed a break from the weather as it always seems to at the start of the season.

The entire schedule was washed out last night. So far the league has completed only six of the 20 games scheduled since the season opened last Saturday.

CORNING on the basis of its two victories against no defeats tops the standings. Jamestown and Erie each with one win and no losses are in second place, one-half game behind.

Bradford is fourth with one win and one loss. Hornell has one victory and two losses, and Hamilton, Wellsville and Olean have lost the single games they have played.

The league tries again tonight with Bradford at Hornell, Corning at Jamestown, Hamilton at Erie and Olean at Wellsville. It was the same schedule rained out yesterday.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Houston, Tex.—Joey Brown, 139, New Orleans, outpointed Wallace (Bud) Smith, 143½, Cincinnati, 10 (non-title).

Carmen Basilio lends dignity and class to the happenings at the municipal auditorium tonight.

In appearance, style and achievement, the former world's welterweight champion is cast in the classic mould. Inside the ring he is an operator of primordial instincts, a slashing bruising fighter. Outside the canvass-backed battlefield, Carmen Basilio is known as a class guy.

The clouter from Canastota is one of the few genuine boxing articles of the era. He stands unawed in the presence of ring giants like Rocky Marciano, Sugar Ray Robinson and Ezzard Charles.

Are there any others? Kid Gavilan and Bobo Olson? Both failed in the test of time. Floyd Patterson? Whom has he licked?

Willie Pep? No faulting the little gnome like warrior out of Hartford. He belongs to the boxing ages. But wherever boxing men of class and distinction gather in the hereafter, you'll find Carmen Basilio.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

As bowling dignitaries from around the country converge upon us for the Kingston Bowling Association's 20th anniversary party Saturday night at the Governor Clinton, it is interesting to glance backward to the first year of the KBA's organization—the 1936-37 season. Without Peter Keresman's organizational astuteness, the advent of the KBA might have been delayed several years. As it stands, the KBA is the oldest in the Hudson valley. It was Pete who did the trouble shooting and sold the bowling proprietors on the necessity of annual resurfacing of alleys as required by American Bowling Congress rules. It was not simple either and a man could make himself highly unpopular by suggesting that once a league received its ABC sanction its members could not roll in an unsanctioned league. Keresman was the first president. The original group also included James G. Norton, then city engineer; Emil Boessneck, Joe Huber, William Thiel, Jose Alvarez, since removed to Cuba; Gil Sampson, Addison Jones, John Raible, Clyde Wonderly and yours truly. New Leagues and new bowlers now readily accept the ABC for what it is and represents. Twenty years ago it was not that simple.

• The Figger Filberts:

Some more little Red Book items: Ted Williams should reach the 1,500 runs-batted-in club this season, with 1475 already to his credit. No one else is within 100 of him. Ted will also reach a milestone in runs scored. He has 1463 but here Stan Musial is ahead of him with 1500. Bob Rush of the Cubs is the only one likely to join the 1000-strikeout circle this season, starting the '56 campaign with 869. Pee Wee Reese is the active-players leader in stolen bases, with 213 to Jackie Robinson's 185. Ted Williams leads the active set in grand-slam homers with 14. Gil Hodges has 11 (one short of the NL record shared by Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner), while Gus Zernial, Al Rosen and Walker Cooper have nine apiece. If Ted Kluszewski, Ed Mathews and Duke Snider have 40-homer seasons again, it will be the fourth year in a row for each, and that's been managed only by Babe Ruth (seven straight years) and Ralph Kiner (five). In fact, Jimmy Foxx is the only other player who hit 40 even three straight times.

Fred Davi is shooting as high as a former Yankee star and American League batting champion as manager for the Kingston Colonials of the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League. Guess who? It's not Joe D., of course. . . . A magazine purportedly polled the 400 major league players and 16 managers and obtained teams of the most underrated and overrated athletes in the respective wheels. Perhaps the most interesting disclosure is that outfielders Hank Bauer of the Yankees and Wally Post of the Redlegs are the most underrated players in the big time.

Maroon Squad Almost Pulls Major Upending

Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroon thinclads almost pulled a stunning upset in their track opener at Arlington yesterday as they battled down to the wire only to lose the deciding broad jump event and the dual meet, 52½ to 51½.

Kingston needed only a victory or a runnerup spot in the broadjump to clinch it after Arlington's Vince McKenna, probably the best schoolboy miler in the area, negotiated the mile in 4 minutes, 38 seconds and Arlington took the 100-dash, 220, pole vault, shot put, high jump and discus.

IRVING ZWILLING captured the 120 hurdles in 15.1 seconds and paced Maroon relay team in 48.5 seconds. Tom Hayes cinched the 440 in 58.7 seconds, while Dave Beehler's time in the half-mile was 2 minutes, 11.3 seconds.

Kingston placed second in seven of the 11 events. The Maroon didn't have it in the field events and the crusher was evidenced in the broad jump.

George Acker, Arlington's strong man in the field events, captured the shot put with a heave of 48 feet, seven inches and tossed the discus 129 feet eight inches.

Arlington's potential was demonstrated last week when they defeated Cardinal Farley Military Academy (59-45), last year's winner of the Dutchess county track title.

THE MAROONS face Middletown and Tannersville in that order on May 11 and 15. They travel to Poughkeepsie on May 17 before competing in the DUSO meet at Newburgh, May 26 and the Section Nine here June 2. West Point will host the Intersectional Meet June 9.

The summaries:

120 YARD HURDLES—Won by Zwilling (K), second, Drake (K), third, Browning (A). Time 15.1 secs.

MILE—Won by McKenna (A); second, Weekly (K), third Peterson (K). Time 4 mins. 38 secs.

220 YARD DASH—Won by Andrews and Hotaling (A) tie for first; third, Johnson (K). Time—.25 secs.

RELAY—Won by Kingston (Zwilling, Drake, Johnson and Smith). Time—48.5 secs.

POLE VAULT—Won by Ludovici (A); second, Pace and Hodges (K) tie. 10 ft.

SHOT PUT—Won by Acker (A); second, Hermance (K); third Engle (K). 48 ft. 7.

HIGH JUMP—Won by Hajos (A); second, Smith (K); third, Browning (A) and Brice (K) tie for third. 5 ft. 6 in.

DISCUS—Won by Acker (A); second, Engle (K); third, Sember (K). 129 ft. 8 in.

BROAD JUMP—Won by Hotaling (A); second, Johnson (K); third, Duclos (A). 19 ft. 9½ in.

'Y' Keglers Hold Annual Banquet

More than 108 bowlers of the YMCA's eight leagues attended the annual bowling banquet at the Youth Center Wednesday night.

A roast beef dinner was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary, assisted by members of the Parents' Club.

TOASTMASTER Dick McCarthy, of The Freeman, introduced Lou Schafer, general secretary of the YMCA, who welcomed the bowlers and urged their cooperation in various Y activities. He also stressed the repair program scheduled during the summer and pointed out that the Y "belonged to its members and those who participated in the program."

Irving Kotrady, president of the Men's Club league, presented trophies to the team winners and individual high scorers. Mercantile League trophies were presented by Secretary Donald Osterhoudt.

THE FOLLOWING officers were elected for the 1956-'57 season: (Mercantile League) Edward Tymeson, president; Sam Hayes, vice president; Donald Osterhoudt, secretary; Len Ward, treasurer. (Men's Club) Irving Kotrady, president; Charles Douglas, vice president; Gerald Howland, secretary and Otto Sonnenberg, treasurer.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell, DD, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Virgil Akins, St. Louis, Mo., welterweight, was an amateur boxer at 15.

New Gross Expected

Rain Sets Up Possible Slow Run in the Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—A slowly run Kentucky Derby Saturday was a possibility today as the weatherman threatened to confuse even more America's glamor race in which every top contender is a come-from-behind performer and an early speed horse is hard to find.

The Churchill Downs' racing strip was still very sloppy this morning from yesterday's intermittent rains. And the weatherman forecast more of the same as the names of the 3-year-olds are dropped tonight into the entry box for the richest Derby.

At least seventeen horses and possibly one more were expected to be entered for the 82nd running of the mile and one-quarter classic.

THE RACE will be televised and broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System from 4:15 to 4:45 p. m., EST.

Seventeen starters would boost the gross purse to a record shattering $167,400 with a net of $123,300, also a new high, going to the winner. Swaps' $108,400 of a gross $152,000 last year are the figures to be topped.

It could well be that several owners will change their mind about posting the $1,250 starting fee after paying $250 to enter. They have until 45 minutes before post time.

Trainer Syl Veitch said C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, one of the favorites, will not be in the post parade if the going is muddy.

Odie Clelland wants no part of the race for Mrs. Helen Kellogg's Come On Red if the racing strip is fast. And there is a possibility Jimmy Jones will withdraw Pintor Lea if the track is real bad rather than risk injury to a wrenched knee, which had threatened to keep him out of the Derby.

WITHDRAWAL of Pintor Lea would place the burden for a sixth Derby triumph by the Calumet Farm, now owned by Mrs. Gene Markey, on Fabius, winner of the Derby trial on Tuesday.

Most experts forecast a slow first half, with none of the well regarded horses willing to set the early pace and then a cavalry charge through the last quarter mile.

One thing is sure, they'll be watching Needles, the 2 to 1 favorite from the Florida-owned D. & H. Stable of Bonnie Heath and Jack Dudley, when he starts running from behind at the top of the stretch.

Career Boy, third choice with Head Man, is another with great speed with the finish line in sight. Head Man himself runs closer to the pace but is no speed demon away from the barrier. Fabius ran the same kind of a race in the trial.

$49.20 Winner

Westbury, May 3 (AP)—Andiamo, making his first start at Roosevelt Raceway since arriving from Santa Anita, won the $5,000 Great Neck Pace in 2:07 3/5 last night and returned $49.20.

END RUN FAILS TO SCORE—Chicago Cubs' pitcher Dick Meyer, left, runs wide trying to reach home plate without being tagged, but Giants' catcher Ray Katt intercepts the runner in fourth inning of game in Chicago May 2. Katt had taken a throw from first baseman to whom Solly Drake had hit a hot grounder. Umpire is Tom Gorman. Giants won, 6-5, after game had gone to 17 innings. (AP Wirephoto)

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

With the trout season here, most of us are anxious to get out and cast a fly. But unless the weather has been especially kind to your section of the country, there isn't much chance of fish really hitting until later in May.

The hatching of aquatic insects is governed by water temperature, and even on a perfect spring day when the water is low and clear the column of insect life over the river is sparse.

In the early season, trout are looking for underwater food. Spring rains wash many earthworms and night crawlers into the streams and, as a result, a worm is one of the most successful early baits. Worms probably are used more by early-season fishermen than all other baits combined.

NYMPHS, the larvae of insects that are yet to hatch, are always abundant and artificials tied to imitate them rate tops in our book. Although hatching nymphs rise to the surface, and a nymph may be fished that way later in the spring, most of them are still down on the bottom now.

This doesn't necessarily mean that all trout will be found in the deep holes. On the contrary, many nymphs occur only over gravelly areas in the runs and riffles. Consequently, trout feeding on them will be found in this type of water.

The same principle applies to other early-season lures and baits. Worms usually are taken while they are rolling and tumbling along the bottom. Minnows, which are more abundant in the shallows during warm weather, are likely to be schooled in the deeper stretches now.

THE EARLY-season trout fisherman, therefore, should fish his bait or lures deep, unless taking fish near the surface appears remotely possible. You may see trout rising or splashing during the warm midday hours and with any amount of luck get a fast session of dry fly work.

The last time that happened for me, however, was back in 1947 on the Beaverkill River, so don't count on it—go prepared for bottom fishing.

Anglers using spinning rods can get comparable results by casting up and across stream with small wobbling spoons and spinners. Let the lure sink and retrieve it right across the stones if you can.

This is an excellent time of the year to catch really large trout that way.

Sauer Felled By Cooper's Bat

St. Louis, May 3 (AP)—"The bat just slipped."

This was all an upset Walker Cooper could bring himself to say in explaining the freak accident which felled teammate Hank Sauer of the St. Louis Cardinals during batting practice before last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 37-year-old Sauer suffered a severe brain concussion, a 3-inch cut of the lip and his left ear was almost torn off.

Hudson Topples Sawyers in Track Meet, 63 to 41

Hudson High's superior track forces rolled over Saugerties High, 63-41, yesterday but Sawyer partisans drew comfort from Bill Zeilman's double and Vickery's time in the mile.

Vickery slashed 17 seconds off his best previous time to finish second behind Hudson's Caparutus, who won in 5 minutes, 18 seconds.

ZEILMAN copped the broad jump with a leap of 17 feet, 2 inches and reeled off the 220 yards in 23.9 seconds.

Other Saugerties winners were Patterson in the 440 yards in 58.7 seconds and Dragan, who heaved the shot 42 feet.

180 YARD HURDLES—Won by Seymour, H; 2. Costello, S; 3. Miller, H; Winning time—23.6 seconds.

Brave Scott Cops Buffalo Feature

Buffalo, N. Y., May 3 (AP)—A crowd of 5,100 harness fans pushed $191,133 through the mutuel windows last night as the Buffalo Trotting Assn. opened its 14th harness season at the Buffalo Raceway.

Brave Scott won the $2,000 feature pace on a muddy track. Clever Counsel was second and Cimarron's Forbes was third. The winner paid $3.

Auburn Set Down For Three Years

New Orleans, May 3 (AP)—Auburn, the University of Florida and the University of Louisville were added yesterday to the growing list of schools placed on probation by the National College Athletic Assn. Auburn's probation is for three years, the longest ever handed out by the NCAA.

Florida and Louisville got two years, but Louisville's probation applies only to its basketball team. The schools were accused of offering excessive aid to student athletes.

Laundry Gets a Head

Youngstown, Ohio (AP) — Patrons in the Alcatraz tavern and the lady in the apartment upstairs had harrowing experiences after a brewery service man installed a new barrel of beer in the tavern. In the apartment, Mrs. Margaret Swory started getting beer in her washing machine. In the tavern, the customers growled that the draught beer tasted like hot water. Peace was restored after it was discovered the service man had switched the pipes.

Lost Scouts Happy

Sheridan, Wyo. (AP) — Each year, a group of Explorer Boy Scouts gets lost in the Big Horn Mountains. They do it intentionally. Escorted by skilled supervisors, the scouts take only the basic needs for survival, and leave prepared foods behind. They forage for food, build rabbit snares and peel bark which they boil into soup. After two or three days of survival training, the scouts are led to safety by their supervisors. The idea is to simulate emergencies common to this rugged area.

WET-FLY FISHING WITH SPIN-TACKLE

TIE A BLOOD KNOT EXTENSION OR A DROPPER LOOP TO TIE A WET FLY ON DROPPER 18" ABOVE CLEAR PLASTIC BUBBLE FLOAT. WHEN FILLED WITH WATER, BUBBLE'S DENSITY IS ABOUT EQUAL TO THE STREAM'S, SO IT SINKS SLOWLY WITH THE FLY. THE SLOW SINK (UNLIKE A LEAD WEIGHT) CAUSES BUBBLE TO BOUNCE OFF BOTTOM BOULDERS INSTEAD OF SNAGGING. INSURE DEEP DRIFT BY CASTING WELL UPSTREAM INTO THE CURRENT. KEEP A SLACK-FREE LINE TO FEEL FISH STRIKE.

Trust Company Is Lowest Bidder on Ulster School Job

The Kingston Trust Company was the successful bidder for the $856,000 bond issue authorized for the construction of a 20-room school on the Chambers site, Albany avenue extension, Wednesday when bids were opened. There were three other bidders who submitted figures for the bonds which will finance the Chambers School District No. 8, Town of Ulster, school building now under construction.

The low bidder was Kingston Trust Company at 3.25% interest with a premium of $1231. Other bidders were: G. B. Gibbons of New York city 3.40%. Smith-Barney of New York city 3.41%. State of New York National Bank of Kingston 3.30%.

BIDS WERE opened at 11 o'clock Wednesday in the presence of the members of the board and Sherwood E. Davis, attorney for the district.

The bid of the Kingston Trust Company shows continued interest in the local school and building problems with their low bid which was substantially lower than the New York bonding houses. The interest of the local banks shows a progressive attitude in our rapidly growing area.

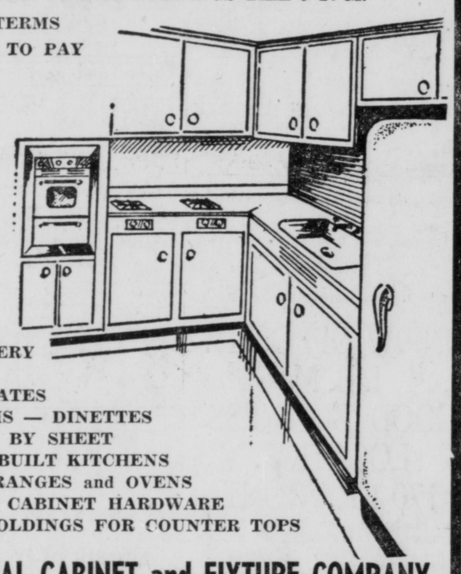

The bond issue will mature in 30 years.

Members of the district at a public meeting approved unanimously naming the school after the Chambers family for their fine cooperation which has always been given the local school district.

Parkers Pay $3,950

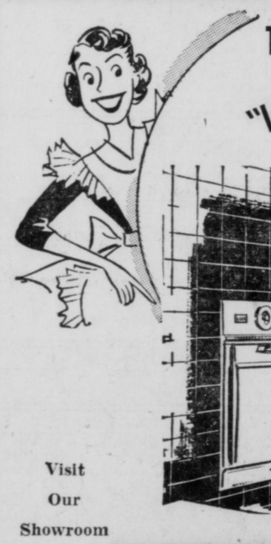

A total of $3,950 was collected from parking meters here in April, the city treasurer's office reported today. This was $300 more than the March total and $100 more than was collected in April, 1955.
